CORRESPONDING OFFICERS OF GRANGE NIGHT

Mrs. Edna L. Borden, past Lecturer of Sippican Pomona Grange, arranged a program for Corresponding Officers' Night, at Cotuit Grange, which was well attended by members from several Cape Granges, and from Mattapoisett, Marion, Fairhaven, Acushnet and South Middleboro. Attendance was slightly over 125.

Soprano and bass duets were sung by Raymond Hall, past Master of Dennis and Marion Granges, and Mrs. Marian Hatton, past Master of Plymouth Grange. Gordon Cudworth, Master of Marion Grange, played two violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Spagnoli, Lecturer of Mattapoisett Grange. Mrs. Martha Briggs, home and community service chairman of Marion Grange, sang two numbers, accompanying herself on the guitar.

An original sketch, "Trials of a Hotel Manager", written by Mrs. Borden, was well received. The manager was Mrs. Borden; the maid, Mrs. Marion J. Pierce; a merry widow, Mrs. Anne Bower; newlyweds, Raymond Hall and Mrs. Mary Lake; a dapper bachelor, John W. Bower, all of Marion Grange. From South Middleboro, parts were played by the Lecturer, Mrs. Bernice Thomas, as an attractive spinster, and the bell boy by Roger Merrill. Clarence Cory, past Master of Fairhaven Grange portrayed an eligible widower. Fred Bousquet, past Master of Acushnet Grange, was a lost boy, handicapped with a speech impediment, and his mother, similarly handicapped, was played by Mrs. Hatton. The widower's daughter was played by Mrs. Briggs.

The Lecturer of Cotuit Grange presented Mrs. Borden with a plant, and each member of the cast received a gift. State grange officers present included Deputies Stone and Northwood, and Mr. Bower, a member of the Youth Committee. Refreshments were served by the host grange.

OFFICERS INSTALLED AT ROCHESTER P-TA

Invited guests and members of the Rochester Parent-Teachers' Association at the last meeting of the season saw the installation of the new officers for the 1958-59 season, and saw a film on school bus safety. They also heard William G. DesRuisseau from the Registry of Motor Vehicles discuss the various aspects of safety on the road. Mr. DesRuisseau noted that safety education begins in the home and children imitate their elders. Children who are instructed at home about proper behavior on the school buses will in later years be the safe drivers on the road.

In an impressive ceremony Mrs. Phillip Fortin, district 1 director, installed the following officers: Mrs. Joseph A. Chamberlain, president; Mrs. Urho Wainio, first vice-president; Mrs. Ralph Walker, second vice-president; Mrs. Henry Tavares, secretary; Mrs. Normand Duval, treasurer and Mrs. Jesse Metcalf, corresponding secretary. All the new officers received red and white carnation corsages. Mrs. Fortin stressed the fact that a P-TA organization is not a social affair but a group that must work together so that all the children and youth within their influence may benefit richly. She noted that one of the duties of the organization is "to bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child".

In her concluding remarks, Mrs. Fortin asked all members to work with the president, talk over differences, and to rise above petty bickering and not to worry who gets the credit.

Mrs. Margaret Doane, a member of the scholarship committee and also P-TA treasurer for the past year, announced that Miss Betty King was awarded the Bernice M. Arenberg Scholarship for $150. She noted that the public address system has been installed at the school and was paid for by funds raised by various P-TA projects.

Announcement was made that the attendance banner was won for the year by Mrs. Ruby Lindsay's grade 4 and for the upper grades by Thomas J. MacDonald's grade 5. Mrs. George M. Davis, Mrs. Henry Smith and Mrs. Richard Snow are on the committee to provide a treat for Mrs. Lindsay's class; and Mrs. Peter Balzarini, Mrs. Walter Pierce and Mrs. Jesse Metcalf will be in charge of plans for Mr. MacDonald's grade 5.

Members were reminded of the food sale planned for June 6th at the Star Store, New Bedford. It is hoped that all members will cooperate to make the last project of the season a success. Mrs. Harvey MacNeill, Mrs. Arthur Kenney and Mrs. Davis will solicit the food and go to New Bedford.

Preceding the business meeting members and invited guests enjoyed a pot-luck supper in charge of Mrs. Peter Balzarini, chairman of the refreshment committee, and Mrs. Eva Ruby and Mrs. Alberta King. The tables were decorated with vases of flowering almond, apple blossoms, jonquils and tulips.

MOTORISTS WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO CHECK REACTION TIME AT POLICE STATION GARAGE

Motorists will have an opportunity June 9 through 14 in the Mattapoisett Police Department garage to learn how reaction time affects their ability to stop a car by checking themselves on the AEtna Portable Reactometer.

The Reactometer, a unique driver-testing device which measures the time required to apply the brake after recognizing danger on the highway, will be sent here by the AEtna Casualty and Surety Company of Hartford, Conn. for the Mattapoisett Police Department.

Consisting of a cabinet with red, yellow and green "traffic" lights, the AEtna Reactometer clocks -- to the eighth of a second -- the time a motorist takes to shift his foot from the accelerator to the brake pedal whenever the light changes to red. Both accelerator and brake pedal are attached to the device in simulated normal driving position.

Each "driver" tested gets a score card showing his reaction time and the number of feet his "car" would have traveled before the brake was applied at speeds from 20 to 80 miles per hour. Comparative distances for reaction times from one second to one-eighth of a second are also shown.

The score card reveals that at five-eighths of a second -- the average reaction time recorded on the AEtna Reactometer -- a car going 20 miles an hour will travel 18 feet before the driver begins to apply the brake. At 60 miles an hour, the distance jumps to 55 feet. A motorist who takes one second to react, however, will have gone 29 and 88 feet, respectively, at these speeds.

Developed by the AEtna as a public service, the Reactometer was designed to dramatize to motorists the important safe-driving fact that the number of feet required to bring a car to a full stop is dependent not only on braking distance but on reaction distance as well.

Students of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades at Center School on June 10th will have an opportunity to test themselves on the Reactometer.

CONCERT TO BE PRESENTED IN MATTAPOISETT

The Sacred Hearts Academy Glee Club, with Edmund H. Desrosiers, conductor, will present a concert at the Mattapoisett Town Hall on Sunday, June 8th, at 8 P.M. Tickets are available from Mrs. Joseph Zychowicz at 8-3867. Proceeds will be used to help pay for the new organ at the St. Anthony Church, Mattapoisett.

C. J. GABRIEL LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN FOR NINTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT SEAT

There can never be a peaceful coexistence between a Godless nation such as Russia and a God-loving country such as America, Governor's Councilor Charles J. Gabriel of Hingham, Republican candidate for the Ninth Congressional District seat, declared this week when he launched an intensive campaign in Plymouth County at meetings held in Hingham, Hanover, Duxbury, Middleboro and Whitman.

"The Soviets will never work in peace and harmony with America", Gabriel told his audiences, "because a nation that holds Communistic government above God is a Godless country that will always seek to destroy a peaceful world. America should agree to a summit conference only if Russia will agree to free elections in East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia."

Outlining his views on a wide variety of national issues and describing himself as a "conservative Republican", the Hingham Councilor stated that he favored "every recommendation" of the Hoover Commission be enacted into law as soon as possible. He also expressed his approval of President Eisenhower's proposal for reorganization of the nation's military command.

Gabriel pointed out the need of a reduction, instead of an expansion of the national debt.

"It is time to call a halt to an extensive foreign aid program. This country has gone far enough in building roads abroad that lead to nowhere. America went beyond herself in building bridges in foreign countries over land that has no water. Let's cut out this foreign aid to countries who won't stick with us when aggression strikes.

"Despite all the assistance we have given abroad, we've asked countries to cooperate in the guided missile program, especially for bases to erect missile sites. What was the answer when we made this request? France and Great Britain told us we could build bases on their soils and all the other countries, rendered assistance by the United States, either said no or failed to answer our diplomatic couriers and the State Department.

"Let's eliminate aid to those countries who fail us in a program that destined to make a peaceful world. If they're not with us now, they will stand on the sidelines when the chips are down.

"The Republican Party stands for economy in government," Gabriel continued, " and is the only party that works in behalf of every man, woman and child in America. If we are to achieve victory on Beacon Hill and throughout the entire length of this Commonwealth, we must campaign like Republicans — talk to every voter in Massachusetts.

"Under a Democratic regime, the Bay State is floundering through a financial mess unparalleled in the history of this great state. And this mess is due to a fumbling, stumbling administration spearheaded by a Democratic governor.

"We can win the entire state and even place the House of Representatives on Beacon Hill under a Republican majority leadership," concluded Gabriel, "if we work night and day for victory—breathe, talk and sell Republicanism to every Independent and Democratic voter in Massachusetts.

"Throughout this state, I have met many Republicans who want a militant, forceful leadership in our party. That leadership can be provided by hard hitting campaigners who won't pull punches and will talk issues to the people. That is the way I'm conducting my campaign for Congress for it is the only way Republicans can win— talk issues, foreign and domestic, for the voter wants to know the answers."

It was a beautiful day, with blue skies and sunshine, for the Bicycle Field Day in Mattapoisett on Saturday, June 7th, sponsored by the Mattapoisett Police Department, Center School Safety Patrol, Parent-Teachers' Club and the Mattapoisett Teachers' Association.

The affair started at 2 P.M. with a parade of gaily decorated tricycles and bicycle, ridden by children of all ages. The parade was led by the Fairhaven American Legion Drum and Bugles Corp. who also put on an exhibition drill at the Center School grounds as part of the program. Also marching were the Mattapoisett Cheerleaders who also entertained at the school with a series of cheers.

The parade proceded from the corner of Pearl and Water Streets to Barstow Street to Church Street and from there on to the school grounds where each rider passed the judges' stand.

LOCAL STUDENT GRADUATES FROM DEPAUW HEARS ADDRESS BY BRITISH PRIME MINISTER

David Stonehill of Mattapoisett was graduated from DePauw University in Greencastle, Indiana on June 8th, and heard an address by the Prime Minister of Great Britain, Harold Macmillan.

A recipient of the Bachelor of Arts degree during DePauw's 119th annual commencement exercises, Stonehill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Stonehill of Beacon Street, Mattapoisett.

Macmillan, who came to the United States primarily to speak at DePauw, attracted the largest commencement crowd in the university's history. He also received the honorary doctor of laws degree.

Watching the proceedings on the National Broadcasting Company's coast-to-coast television network were an estimated 25,000,000 people. It was the first telecast of a DePauw commencement.

The son of a native Hoosier, Helen Belles Macmillan, the Prime Minister was visiting the institution from which his grandfather, Dr. Joshua Belles, received the M. D. degree in 1851.

Academic degrees were conferred last night upon more than 400 seniors, representing one of DePauw's largest graduating class, by President Russell J. Humbert, who also awarded graduate degrees.

ANNUAL GIRLS STATE AT BRIDGEWATER

The 14th annual Massachusetts Girls State opened Friday at Bridgewater State Teachers College with 225 Juniors from various high schools in the Commonwealth. These citizens of a mythical 49th State are learning the fundamentals of their government, and the qualities of character essential for maintenance of democracy in today's changing world, as expressed by Mrs. Mark W. Murrill, Director and Past National President of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Speakers on town and city government and the legal status of women were featured with Commissioner Owen B.Kiernan of the Department of Education addressing the assembly Saturday evening. All citizens attended the church of their choice Sunday morning, with a session of a mock trial of the Superior Court. Dr. William C. Kvaraceus, of the School of Education Boston University, challenged these young students on the "Transition to Adulthood: Some Marks of Maturity".

Attending from Mattapoisett were Miss Susan Erhard, representing the Mattapoisett Auxiliary, and Miss Susan Pelson, representing the Fairhaven Auxiliary.

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL BAZAAR AT ROCHESTER CLUB

The gala 17th annual bazaar and smorgasbord will take place at the Rochester Woman's Club on this Thursday, June 26th. The bazaar will open at 3:30 P.M. and the line will form for the smorgasbord at 6:30 P.M. A varied menu is planned, under the direction of Mrs. Albert Hellyer, which will include cold corned beef and luncheon meats, meat loaf, casserole dishes, scalloped potatoes and potato salads, green salads and cabbage slaws, macaroni and cheese, American chop suey, hot baked beans, hot vegetables and pickled beets. Coffee and ice cream will be served for dessert. Tickets are going fast, so for reservations, call Mrs. Timothy O'Brien at ROckwell 3-5302, before twelve noon, or Mrs. Hellyer at ROckwell 3-5788.

The club will be open all day for donations on Thursday and if anyone wishes to leave articles during the week, Mrs. Timothy O'Brien will accept them at her house next door to the clubhouse on any morning up to 12:00 noon

If you are still doing belated spring closet and attic cleaning this week, don't forget there will be a table for children's toys, books and clothing and right next to it a white elephant display. Fresh vegetables are always welcome and don't forget "Grandma" Hartley's plant table when thinning out your garden. Put that extra plant in a pot and bring it to the bazaar. Children's and adults' clothing in good condition will be accepted.

Buy gifts at the apron fancy work and gift tables and lay them away for Christmas. Two scientist, businessman, philosopher, statesman and diplomat. With all he achieved during his lifetime, Franklin felt that the days were not long enough for a person to accomplish everything, noted Raymond in his talk.

The accomplishments of Edison were given by Edith Johnson who stated that he is generally recognized as the greatest inventor in history. His inventions such as the electric light bulb, phonograph and motion picture machine became known in every inhabited part of the earth, noted Edith.

Anne P. Smith presented a piano solo, "Moonlight on the Patio" by Henry Sawyer.

David Lizotte spoke on Burbank's contribution to the world as a famous American plant breeder and horticulturist. Burbank achieved results by crossing and selection, commented David.

Next on the program was a talk by Barbara Phillips on Einstein, who is known as the American physicist who set forth the theory of relativity. Through his theory Einstein laid the basis for the application of atomic energy. Barbara noted that the famous physicist said that matter and energy were not distinct but could be changed to one another.

Sandra Gayoski entertained the audience with a vocal solo, "If You Believe" by Powell & DiMinno with Miss Trombley as accompanist at the piano.

J. Adrian Chamberlain spoke on Oppenheimer who is regarded as one of the top ten theoretical physicists in the world. Adrian noted that Oppenheimer is known as "the man who built the atomic bomb". He has helped Congress draft the first laws covering the use and control of the atomic energy. The last regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Juvenile Grange was Bird and Conservation Night in charge of Paul Morris.

SAFETY HINTS
from the Red Cross

It's more fun to swim with a companion, and safer, too. If you get in trouble, there's someone to help you out, or summon help. Never swim alone.

WATER SAFETY RULES

1. Never swim alone.
2. Wait an hour after meals before swimming.
3. Avoid swimming if tired or overheated.
4. Swim close to shore.
5. If muscle cramps occur, leave water at once.
6. Do not swim from boats in deep water.
7. Be wary of river currents.
8. If your boat capsizes, stay with it.
9. Never stand or change positions in boats.
10. Do not overload boats.
11. Select a safe swimming place, preferably supervised by lifeguards.
12. Know how to rescue a person from drowning and how to apply artificial respiration.

GRADE SIX HAS GRADUATION IN ROCHESTER

A departure from previous years marked the graduation of Grade 6 of the Rochester Consolidated School to their entry at Junior High School level. Albert O. Duseault, principal, noted that the half-way mark had been completed and now the class will be entering a new phase of study.

Miss Cecile Lundell, Grade 6 teacher, gave introductory remarks to parents, guests and the graduating class. Miss Lundell noted that the class must "put aside childish ways" and come to the "realization they are young adults. Hard work and more thinking must characterize the next six years of schooling", remarked Miss Lundell.

The class all wrote compositions on what junior high would mean to them. Selected were the compositions written by Janice Lawrence, "Junior High and Me"; Donna Howes, "Half Way"; and Doris Hartley, "Forward". Each of the girls read their compositions to the audience.

Proper dress for physical education in junior high was demonstrated by Diane Ouellette and Charles Wolf. Earle P. Hanna, physical instructor for the boys, explained the importance of proper dress for boys and Miss Lundell, physical instructor for the girls, explained the need for correct dress for girls during physical education period.

Mrs. Wallace Wilkie, teacher in the junior high department, explained to the graduating class that "suddenly reading is literature and that language is English". She noted that they will be receiving more homework but if they budget their time they will find they will be able to complete the assignment.

George R. Austin, superintendent of schools, addressed the graduating class noting one of the first steps is "pride in appearance", and that "work brings success". Mr. Austin commented on the fact the only place he knew of where success came before "work" is in the dictionary. Illustrating his talk was a drawing by Ruth Pare showing two donkeys fastened together and two barrels of food. By cooperation and not trying to outwit the teacher the class would gain more knowledge; therefor, noted Mr. Austin, if the two don-

MISS MARY ERHARD WEDS IN CALIFORNIA

Miss Mary Wales Erhard became the bride of Staff Sergeant Ronald W. Westgate, USMC, in a ceremony at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot Chapel in San Diego, California. Lieutenant j.g. Donald Bliss officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Erhard of Barstow Street, Mattapoisett, wore a gown of chantilly type lace with scalloped neckline, long pointed sleeves and waltz length skirt. She also wore an heirloom string of gold beads that belonged to her great-great-great-grandmother as early as 1806. She carried the wedding handkerchief of her great-grandmother and had a silver sixpence in her shoe. Her elbow-length veil was caught to a band of pearls and her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Susan Erhard, maid of honor for her sister, wore a princess style and street length gown of dusty rose taffeta. Her bouquet was a cascade of pink carnations with a matching flower head band.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin M. Westgate of East Wareham, had as his best

LEGION PRESENTS LIFE PRESERVERS TO MATTAPOISETT POLICE DEPARTMENT

The American Legion Florence Eastman Post #280 of Mattapoisett has presented the Mattapoisett Police Department with two life preservers which will be placed in the town's cruiser for use in case of emergency. In the picture above Police Chief Alden S. Kinney and Commander Robert Raphael of the Legion Post are shown with the new preservers.

CONGRATULATIONS TO LIONS CLUB

Congratulation and many thanks to the Mattapoisett Lions Club for the erection of a new sun house at the town beach. The house replaces the one which was destroyed in the 1954 hurricane.

I am sure that many young mothers with small babies appreciate this addition to the beach. They can enjoy the water and sun while baby is sleeping in his carriage in the sun house where it is cool.

This is one of the many worthwhile community projects sponsored by the Lions. Their current project is an auction this Saturday for the benefit of a greatly needed bandstand at Shipyard Park. You can help them by donating articles for the sale, and also by attending. Perhaps you'll find at the auction just what you are looking for.

Those wishing to donate articles may call Edward Sylvia or Raymond Pound.

Help yourself and your town by helping the Lions Club.

ROCHESTER GUILD HAS ALL-DAY MEETING

The Women's Guild of the First Congregational Church of Rochester met for an all-day meeting at which time they worked on articles for their sale. After lunch and a short business meeting, they attended the sale at the East Rochester Congregational Church. Rev. Melville Nyman, a former pastor of the First Congregational Church, was also there. He now has a pastorate in Cambridge. He and his mother plan to attend the annual sale at his former church, which will be July 17th, followed by a supper.

The last meeting of the season for the Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. Daniel E. Hartley on July 23rd.

One of the most painted fishing shacks and wharves in the country appears on the Presto cover this week. This scene, known as Motif #1, is in Rockport, Mass. An easy day's trip from Mattapoisett, Rockport is an artist's colony and harbor of real interest. The shore is rock ledge and makes for some wild surf pictures when the sea is heavy.

The fishermen's shacks along the shore have been taken over by artists and gift shop operators, and so there are many galleries of paintings and gift and curio shops to be visited. The wharves divide the harbor into two, an inner harbor and and outer harbor, the latter enclosed by a breakwater. Boats of all kind fill all the available space. You, perhaps, noticed the height of the wharf which is much greater than ours to accomodate the higher tides.

Some cool day, if you're looking for a pleasant trip and a change of scene, this is a good journey to try. On the way to Rockport, you will pass through Gloucester which you will recognize from far away by the aroma of fish.

The number of shops in Rockport rival that of Provincetown but the atmosphere and scenery is far different. The paintings generally are of very good quality with some famous name artists exhibiting and giving demonstrations.

WHAT CAN BE DONE TO STOP INFLATION?

There are four specific steps that can be taken by the Congress to resist inflation.

1-Restore balance to the process of labor-management negotiations.
2-Cut out waste and inefficiency in government
3-Put the Farm Price Support Program on a more conservative basis.
4-Aid small business so that our economy can be kept truly competitive.

ALASKA

Alaska has only to vote on the act of Congress to become the 49th State of the United States. This seems a certainty. The vast treasure chest of the territory once owned by Russia proved one of the most fortunate purchases that this country ever made. At this time it was known as Seward's folly, and a storm of indignation and ridicule arose over the paying of $7,200,000 to Russia. William H. Seward, Secretary of State, regarded this act as the greatest service of his life and history has proven this a thousand times over. More than 40 times the purchase price in gold has been taken from Alaska. Fish and other products have yielded $60,000,000 per year. Copper and other ores are the richest in the world. Coal is there to the amount of over 150 billion tons. This storehouse of riches proves that the United States was not always taken in by the Russians.

Here is an interesting sidelight that amused us. Miss Alice L. Meigs of Boston wrote us a note which said that a Captain Bryant was chosen by Mr. Seward to deliver the $7,200,000 in gold to the Russians. He had the problem of the transport of the gold over vast distances of wild country. Being a canny Yankee he thought of a plan. He bought a quantity of nail kegs of assorted sizes and heights and make it known that he planned to open a hardware store in Alaska. So the gold was shipped as hardware and, much to the surprise of the Russians, it arrived intact.

Miss Meigs adds "Capt. Bryant was, if memory doesn't fail me, first governor of the Aleutian Islands."

Alaska still has the problem of transporting supplies over rough terrain. When easy communications are established there is no telling what returns and benefits this newest State will be to the United States.

For an interesting account of Alaska's history and the way of life of the people there, read Edna Ferber's new best selling novel, "Ice Palace".

GOP DRIVE LAUNCHED IN MASSACHUSETTS

Confident that Massachusetts Republicans have the strongest slate for state-wide offices in many years, Chairman Daniel E. McLean of the State Republican Committee, has launched the most determined drive in GOP history to retain its Senate majority and regain control of the House.

"With Attorney General George Fingold as our Gubernatorial standard bearer, I envision a Republican landslide in November, as far as top of our ticket is concerned," McLean said.

"But banishing Futile Foster Furcolo and his incompetent department heads from Beacon Hill is only a part of the problem of restoring good government in Massachusetts.

"Republican control of the Senate must be maintained or complete chaos will result.

Only our two-vote margin in the upper legislative branch has saved bipartisan government for the Commonwealth.

"If Republicans fail to control the Senate next year and the House continues under Democratic rule, Massachusetts can become a one-party state overnight.

"Given control of the Senate and House, the Democrats will redistrict so many of the 280 seats in the two branches that they will rule the state for generations. I shudder at the thought of Massachusetts becoming a socialistic state, which will happen when it ceases being bipartisan", McLean said.

First on the GOP Chairman's Senatorial agenda is the grooming of replacements for such Republican stalwarts as retiring Silvio O. Conte in the Berkshire district, John E. Yerxa in the Third Suffolk district and Edward J. DeSaulnier, Jr. in the First Middlesex District.

Conte is seeking the Congressional seat to be vacated by veteran John W. Heselton of Deerfield, and Yerxa won the pre-primary convention's endorsement for State Treasurer. DeSaulnier has announced plans to devote full time to his Lowell legal practice.

"It is fortunate for Massachusetts Republicans that they have outstanding replacements for each of these upcoming Senatorial vacancies. I am certain that our party will retain all of those seats. But seven other Republicans survived very close elections in 1954. This year, however, they and all others will have the full power of the State Committee behind them all the way to Election Day", McLean said.

VISITED SISTER

Fred Bailey has returned to his home in Rhode Island after a week's visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bettencourt of Rochester.

oil but 4 bbls. We have several pipes of water and 3 or 4,000 lbs. of bone on deck that we cannot get below. Our ship is full in the strictest sense of the word. No Obs'n.

July 21st. Tuesday the wind is fresh from W.S.W. and foggy. We this day heave our try works overboard and begin to wash ship. Course S.E. No obs'n.

July 22nd. Wednesday the wind from W.S.W. blows fresh today with thick fog. We wash ship and move the galley to the site of the try works. Our ship begins to look a little cleaner. We set the fore topmast studdingsail. No obs'n.

July 23rd, Thursday. Fresh gales from S.W., thick fog and fine rain at times. We unreeve and shift ends with our rigging. We tow some to get the dirt off. We this day kill our pig. No Obs'n.

July 23rd, Thursday (sic). The first part of this day the rain comes in torrents. The weather clears and we get observations that put us in west longitude. In consequence I add a day. All hands wash clothes. We get studdingsails all set. The wind is light from N.W.

July 24th. Friday the wind is light from N-W with mist and wet the first part. The weather of late has been verry cold. Today we crown all our royal yards and bend our best topsails and off we go with flying kites.

July 25th. Saturday is calm with some light airs from the West. We repair our best mainsail and bent it. A part of each watch is employed scraping the outside of the ship. Our cook is sick and off duty. There is a great sensation created today amongst the sailors in consequence of the dough not being done.

July 26th. Sunday is calm. In the afternoon we have light airs from the southward and eastward. The weather continues verry cold.

July 27th. Monday we have calms and light airs from the northward and westward. The sun shines quite pleasant. We finish our maintopgallant studdingsail and begin to make warp for bunching bone out of our old cutting pennants.

July 28th. Tuesday. Today the wind is light on the eastern board from N to S with thick fog but quite warm. We begin to clean our bone. No obs'n.

July 29th. Wednesday the wind is very light from S by W nearly, with fog a part of the day. We finish cleaning bone today. The ocean for a few days past has been as quiet as the bosom of peace.

July 30th. Wednesday the wind is very light from S. The sun shines warm like summer. We spread our bone about decks today. This weather is altogether too fine. It does seem as if we never should get home. No obs'n.

July 31st. Friday the wind is light from S till noon, then it blows fresh from S.E. with some attempts at squalls. We pack up and stow away 11,000 lbs. of bone.

lieve we shall be obliged to cruise here as long as the flying Dutchman was at sea. Our friends will pass away and our head is fast blossoming for the Home of the Silent.

I had a vision of the night,
My native vales I trod once more,
The morning sun shone clear and bright,
But ah 'twas not the days of yore.
I saw young strangers fair and bright,
Friends of my heart, Oh where are they?
They've gone, their souls have taken flight
To that bright land of endless day.

August 6th. Thursday the wind is moderate from SE and SSE. with squalls in the morning and 2 or 3 unsuccessfull attempts to form water spouts. We do various light jobs about the ship and catch a porpoise. The wind has been ahead so long that time hangs heavily on my hands.

August 8th, Saturday. The first part of the day the wind is light from various quarters, the latter part it blows strong from S by W. There is no variety in the scene around us - a waste of water around us and God's broad silent sky overhead. No living thing in sight except some scattered sea fowl and occasionally a school of porpoises. Neither man or his works are visible beyond our decks.

COUNTRY GARDEN THEME OF CHURCH FAIR

The annual Fair of the St. Gabriel's Church of Marion will be held on Wednesday, July 30th, from one to five o'clock, rain or shine. If it rains, the fair will be held in the new Sunday School building.

A Country Garden will be the theme of the Fair of which Mrs. W. Davis Taylor is the General Chairman.

Once again the Corner Cupboard will offer unusual antiques, decorative accessories and foreign imports.

Fun of all sorts will be awaiting the children in the form of a merry-go-round, pony rides and other surprises. Also, the children will enjoy browsing through the records and toys on the White Elephant Table.

The Arts and Crafts Table will offer some lovely handmade and hand painted articles that are very distinctive.

tion. Supplies of such fruits as watermelons, peaches, cherries, plums, blueberries, cantaloupes are increasing rapidly in most stores and their prices are coming down. With these larger volumes of fruit available, it's the wise food shopper who follows general fruit buying clues carefully.

Miss Beatrice White, Home Demonstration Agent, Plymouth County Extension Service, Court House, Brockton, Mass., recommends homemakers to follow these simple rules:

Plan ahead the fruit you will want to use in the menu.

Do not handle fruits and vegetables unnecessarily.

Remember the largest is not always the best.

Avoid fruits that show decay.

Do not buy merely because the price is low.

Consider the fruits that are in season in the nearest production area.

See that containers hold full measure.

Study the market.

Distinguish between blemishes that affect appearance and those that affect eating quality.

Buy the right quantities for your needs.

The leaflet Freezing Fruits and Vegetables and the leaflet on Canning are available by writing to the Extension Service, Court House, Brockton, Mass.

August 13th. Thursday the wind is light from ENE. We make some little progress toward our port of destination. The runaway that came onboard of us in Tahiti seems to be very warlike. He had a fight yesterday and one today. His name is George Spencer, his native place is Monroe, Michigan. He is about 19 years of age. We work on our rigging today.

August 14th. Friday the wind is moderate from ENE and weather warm. There is some slight attempts at squally. We continue our light jobs about the ship. We caught two skip jacks today. They ---- very well fresh.

August 15th. Saturday we have light airs from the Northward and westward and our progress is slow. There is a shark hovering about seeking whom he might devour.

August 16th. Sunday the most of the day the wind is light from SW, the latter part is calm. The scene around us is solitary and lonely in the extreme and the winds we have is discouraging indeed. If there is any thing to recompence one for these long lonely days and nights it is the glorious sunsets that spread out a scene such only as the Almighty can conceive.

August 17th. Monday is calm till noon, then light airs from SW and a hot sun. We do some painting about our spars today.

August 18th. Tuesday is calm and hot. The ocean around us is like a mirror and the scene is solitary indeed. No thing day after day but the ocean's glassy surface bounded by a horizon where repose light fleecy clouds is there for the eye to rest on. Today the larboard watch went in a swimming. They had all come onboard the ship but three that had swam off a few rods when a large shark was seen making for them. They raised a hue and cry from the ship and the shark sheer'd off after getting close to them. It was a narrow escape. Today I varnish the inside of my boat and we do some painting.

August 19th. Wednesday we have light airs from the Eastward. Today we break out all our water and find that we have according to my judgement 21 barrels to last us to the Islands 650 miles distant with an uncertain passage and 55 or more mouths to drink. There is hard feelings and some hard words between some of our folks high in authority with an arch intriguer behind the scenes to widen the breach. Blessed are the Peace makers but curse all Janus faces. Blessed are the humble, they are of no consequence. Counterfeit coin is not par in all places.

August 20th. Thursday we have the trade winds blowing a good breeze. This morning at daylight we saw a sail to leeward that proves to be the ERIE of Fairhaven with 3700 bbls. of oil, bound home. We spoke her at 10 A.M. and Capt. Chester and Mr. Comstock went onboard for a Gam. Mr. Duer came on board of us. That night we have the trades fresh.

August 21st. Friday the trade winds blow strong from E by N. The ship is closehauled heading about SE by E. Our Fairhaven friend is out of sight to windward at 4 P.M.

August 22nd. Saturday the eternal winds continue strong from east and squally.

August 23rd. Sunday the wind is strong with squalls of rain and the usual quantity of clouds. The copper is so rolled up on the ship's bottom she goes very slow. Time flies on leaden pinions.

August 24th. Monday the trades continue strong with dark frowning clouds hovering about us. They are sometimes in travail and bring forth squalls of winds and rain. We sometimes clew down and up out topgallant sails. One of them split our jib to pieces. We unbend it and repair it with rope yarns and twine. Our twine, by the way, is all gone.

August 25th. Tuesday the trades continue strong from ENE. We scour, wash and paint our two boats on the spars overhead and get up our newly painted studdingsail booms. At 2 P.M. the mountains of Owyhee and Mowee became visible to our seaworn gaze. They bore about SW. They appear dark and frowning in the distance but the rays of the sun as they steal through the clouds make bright spots like a smile on the face of despair. We run for the land. Our chronometer is 5 or 6 degrees out of the way and the nearest land is Wahoo.

No matter how widely you have traveled, you haven't seen the world if you have failed to look into the human hearts that inhabit it. ----Donald Culross Peattie

GIANT CATCH IN MATTAPOISETT

Bill Croft, in the Wanderer II, and Tony Paulino, who operates the Riverside Bait and Tackle Shop on Sconticut Neck, harpooned a 375-lb. tuna on Thursday, July 24th. They were unable to lift the giant fish out of the water into the boat, so they towed it in to the Mattapoisett harbor from the Nomansland area where they caught it. When they reached the wharf they found that it was too heavy to haul out, so it was hauled up the launching ramp.

The catch was bought by Val Henshaw of Mattapoisett. Bill Croft lives at Linhares Avenue, Mattapoisett, and is owner and skipper of the Wanderer II, sports fisherman, a charter fishing boat.

YACHT VISITS HARBOR FROM MARBLEHEAD

There have been some nice boats in the harbor of late. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Seward and Mr. and Mrs. John Stucke of Marblehead, Mass. of the yacht, "Guay Skipper" anchored off the wharf and spent a few days here enjoying the harbor and the town.

They dropped into the card shop on our Tuesday printing day and heard the press running. This was interesting to Mr. Stucke who is in the printing business in Boston, so he came out to the Presto pressroom to have a look. He was interested in our paper and the press. In the Boston plant, he said, there are presses that could print 16 pages of our paper at a time, instead of the single page that we print.

They all wanted to tell the people of Mattapoisett that they were "impressed with the ordiality of the town and enjoyed their stay ere no end".

GUESTS IN MATTAPOISETT

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Jacobs, Jr. of Antassawomack Neck, Mattapoisett are Mrs. Ora Williams Jacobs and Mr. Edward W. Toomey, III. Both reside in Newton, Mass.

LEGION TO CONDUCT CARNIVAL

The annual carnival, sponsored by the Mattapoisett American Legion Post No. 280, will be held from August 5th to August 9th at the Beach parking lot. Proceeds will go to aid the charitable works of the Legion.

One of the features of the carnival will be a digantic fireworks display on Friday night, August 8th.

WHERE THERE'S A WILL THERE'S A WAY!

Last Saturday evening the Men's Club of the Mattapoisett Congregational, under the leadership of "Tony" Pelson and the help of a live committee, plus the generosity of Enoch Winslow, who loaned a portion of his boat shop, put on a successful bean supper.

With the vestry and the kitchen of the church not usable due to renovation, a delicious ham and bean supper was served on the lawn and in the boat shop across the street. A canopy was constructed at the entrance to shelter the serving table, and the seating was arranged as comfortably as if it were a usual Saturday night event.

Completing the setting was Hi-Fi supper music furnished from the porch on the second floor of Hal Peterson's home across the street.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON
BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM
JUNE 28, 1844 TO MARCH 9, 1847.

August 26th. Wednesday the current having swept us to leeward last night we keep the ship off WSW for Oahu or Wahoo. We put the studdingsails out below and aloft and at noon we are within 6 miles of the Island running down for Honolulu. This part of the Island is broken and looks dreary and desolate and has the unmistakable appearance of being the Child of the Volcano. At 2 P.M. we anchor in the outer harbor of Honolulu. Capt. Chester goes in shore and stops all night. There is lying near us the English line of battle ship COLLINGSWOOD and a frigate. Her name is the GRAMPUS. Capt. Chester stops on shore this night.

August 27th. Thursday at daylight the pilot comes onboard. We get under way and go in to the inner (harbor) to keep out of the way of Mexican privateers. It is very snug, no wind can harm you there. We scour ship preparatory to painting and get 11 bbls. of beef, a cask of bread and an old mainsail

TURTLE STORY

Sunday, July 27th, a commercial lobsterman from Sconticut Neck in Fairhaven hauled in the weirdest catch landed around here in a long while. While pulling lobster traps, he came across one of them with tremendous resistance. When he managed to haul it to the surface, he found that a 400-lb. turtle had tangled its flippers in the trapline. He brought the turtle in to Wilbur's Point at Sconticut Neck where it attracted crowds of people who had never seen anything like it in these waters.

The turtle measured approximately four feet long with a head almost the size of a human's. It was black and about 3 feet in height. Almost helpless on the shore, it inched its huge bulk around in the sand with its 1½ foot flippers. After a short time on the beach to allow people to look him over, the turtle was set free to return to its haunts. In deep water, we hope.

LOG OF THE CHARLESTON

out of the ship ERIE of Fairhaven. Honolulu is a beautiful and romantic spot. An English armed brig and a sloop of war came in today and 2 American whalers.

August 28th, Friday. This day the Larboard watch go on shore. The English sloop of war JUNO comes in to the inner harbor, likewise the TUSCANONA of Cold Spring. She has 100 bbls. The place here is a mixture of primitive and civilization, the mud huts of the natives and some very good buildings. I spent a part of the day at the reading room of the Seamens Chapel. At noon the sloop fired a salute which was returned from the fort. There is several whalers lying off an on today.

August 29th, Saturday. This day the Starboard watch go on shore. We get off 18 bbls. of beef and other stores. The GRAMPUS sails for Otahita.

August 30th. Sunday the larboard watch goes on shore. This day I go to the Seamens Chapel and heard the Rev. L. Smith preach to a respectable congregation of sailors and white residents of the place. Several of my own country women were there. They seemed like flowers on a desert shore. The ship ROMULUS of Mystic puts back on the account of mutiny. They brought 9 of her men ashore in irons. I feel in my heart there is no place like home.

VISITED IN MATTAPOISETT

Busy Grangers spent a week in Mattapoisett as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel LeBaron of Water Street, Mattapoisett. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nichols and daughter, Barbara, of Westboro found Mattapoisett a delightful place to rest in after a full year of Grange work.

Mr. Nichols is master of Borough Pomona. Mrs. Nichols is master of Westboro Subordinate Grange and Pomona of the Pomona Grange. She is also a Past Juvenile Superintendent of the State Grange. Miss Nichols, who teaches school in Northboro, is the lecturer of the Pomona and matron of the Westboro Juvenile Grange.

While visiting in Mattapoisett Mrs. Nichols composed the words to music for the "Massachusetts" song for the State Lecturer, Marion Johnson, to use for the New England Lecturers Conference to be held in Durham, New Hampshire.

RETURNED TO NORFOLK AFTER LEAVE FROM NAVY

Alan F. Fales of 72 Main Street, Mattapoisett left Monday after a leave from the United States Navy to return to Norfolk, Virginia where he will be aboard a destroyer as an Electricians Mate Fireman. He trained at Great Lakes, Illinois for 14 weeks for his present rating.

He is very interested in the United States Navy and the opportunities it offers navy men for education in the fields of their choice.

Held Friday afternoons to benefit the Mattapoisett Congregational Church building fund, the sales are sponsored by the Women's Community Guild. Members wishing to donate food may call either chairman.

DID YOU KNOW?

That Mrs. Edna Hills Humphrey of Wellsley and Aucoot Cove is a writer and has had articles published in various magazines. One entitled "Handicapped? Not F F" is an article in the 1958 Old Farmers Almanac. The article is about Fanny Farmer of cook book fame, who suffered a stroke in early life, but still went on to fame and fortune with her famous cook book.

Mr. and Mrs. Judah Humphrey are at their summer home at Aucoot Cove.

VACATIONING AT POINT CONNETT

Mrs. Beryl Hewson, noted musician and bridge director, with her sister, Muriel Palmer, are vacationing at the Rudolph cottage at Point Connett with a friend, Mrs. Mullarkey. Mrs. Hewson will be remembered in Mattapoisett as the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chamberlain, who formerly lived on Main Street.

Mrs. Hewson directs the world's largest duplicate bridge club, the St. Petersburg Shuffle Club. She and her sister direct 3 games per week that run 90 to 100 tables each during the season.

Beryl has a loyal staff that assists her but she is entirely responsible for the well directed games that the "shuffle board" enjoys. She also plays her violin in the shuffle board orchestra.

DANIEL E. MCLEAN HITS WASTE AND EXTRAVAGANCE IN STATE GOVERNMENT

The Furcolo administration's waste and extravagance that has bloated Massachusetts' bonded indebtedness to a staggering $1¼ billions will be one of the major Republican campaign issues, State Chairman Daniel E. McLean said.

"Unless Massachusetts gets rid of Furcolo, it will complete its financial plunge and then, much too late, find itself paying out all of its gross revenues as interest on its bonded debt. Then we will have complete chaos in the Commonwealth", McLean warned.

"Even when Furcolo's top political allies turned against him, which is exactly what happened when his hand-picked House Committee on Ways and Means slashed $43 millions out of his proposed 1958-59 budget, the Governor refused to change his Ponzi-like financial methods.

"Just as that late and unlamented financial charlatan did years ago, Furcolo is attempting to cover up the Commonwealth's almost complete bankruptcy by having it borrow back more than it spends.

"Despite this $1¼ billions of debt, Furcolo now is demanding an additional $174 millions in loans to finance more of his crackpot projects," McLean said.

"The fact that 75 Massachusetts manufacturing firms have closed down since last January 1 appears to have excaped Furcolo's serious attention. That has meant the loss of 18, 258 jobs for Massachusetts workers, the complete disappearance of $70 millions from the state's industrial payrolls and considerable tax revenue losses to many cities and towns", McLean said.

OVERSTATEMENT

A proud young lady from Kentucky was trying to justify her state to a Texan. "In Kentucky," she said, "we have Fort Knox, where enough gold is stored to build a golden fence three feet high completely around Texas."

"Go ahead and build it," drawled the Texan; "if I like it, I'll buy it."

"Several months ago when unemployment was at its peak, Furcolo attempted to delude 200,000 of our unemployed with his so-called $50 millions relief bill. What he actually wanted to do with this $50 millions was turn it into a political slush fund to insure his re-election. But his proposals were so ridiculous that even his legislative stooges refused to swallow them.

"Now that the Furcolo jobless bill has been so amended that it cannot be used for his selfish purposes, he has lost all interest in it. He will let it die in committee.

"But in the meantime, the Governor has discarded his insincere plea of 'help the unemployed' and now is using education as an excuse to fatten up his favorite contractors at the State's expense.

"Furcolo now demands that the state borrow another $111 millions for the expansion of its educational system. On the surface, that is very commendable. But the joker in this latest of Furcolo raw deals is that most of the $111 millions would go to pay contractors for the construction of nine costly junior colleges that many eminent educators insist are unneeded", McLean said.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON
BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM
JUNE 28, 1844 TO MARCH 9, 1847.

August 31st, Monday. Today the starboard watch go on shore. We get our casks on shore and fill some and get some wood on board. I saw for the first time Chinese in their native dresses. I likewise saw the King and Queen of the Sandwich Islands. They were drawn by a pair of Grays in a verry good carriage drove by a white Coachman. The King is a verry large good looking man, rather dark. The Queen is smaller and verry good looking. They were neatly dressed in the European fashion.

- Sept. 1846 in Honolulu, Sandwich Islands -

Sept. 1st. Tuesday the wind blows strong with squalls of rain. We got our water on-board and the larboard watch go onshore. At 11 A.M. the Ship GUSTAVE of Bremen goes to sea.

Sept. 2nd. Wednesday the wind blows strong. The larboard watch goes on shore. We sell 3 boats here at $50 each in goods from the store. There is many large and full stores here of evry thing that is for sale in the U. S.

SAMMY SCALLOP WILL REIGN OVER FESTIVAL

On August 8 and 9 the world famous port of New Bedford will be the scene of a sea scallop festival. New Bedford is recognized as the world's largest scallop port, producing 75% of the sea scallops consumed in the world. The Exchange Club of New Bedford, with the cooperation of the New Bedford Seafood Council, is sponsoring this event at the height of the tourist season. The highlight of this 2-day affair will be the serving of complete scallop dinners in a huge tent erected on an island in the center of historic New Bedford harbor. Other attractions will be scallop vessels on display as well as other marine equipment, shipyards, processing plants and various allied industries open for public inspection. Band concerts will be provided by the First Army Fort Devens Band, and unique Coast Guard land ---sea operations will be staged. The nation's leading food editors and authorities will be on hand to join the festivities.

Andre Surmain will supervise a special dinner (scallops of course) to be served the visiting food writers on the eve of the festival, August 7. These visiting dignitaries will be treated to a beauty pageant, a bay trip on a scallop dragger, a visit to the famous whaling museum, a trip through a modern scallop packing plant and of course a visitation to the festival grounds itself.

This first New Bedford Sea Scallop Festival will spotlight an industry which last year saw 16,457,857 lbs. of shellfish landed with the value of scallops set at $7,983,974.

There is American goods in abundance.

Sept. 3rd, Thursday. Today we heel the ship, black the bends and stow away the water and get ready for sea. The Capt. talks of going tomorrow. I went to the American Hospital. It was kept very neat. There was in the Sick Bay 35 or 40. There is a flag staff with the Stars and Stripes a flying. Two or three native schooners sailed today for Owyhee. They appeared like Noahs Arks with their inmates. The larboard watch goes on shore.

Sept. 4th, Friday. Today we unmoor, haul in shore and get ready for sea. The cook gets drunk and crazy. We take him onboard by force of arms. I am weary weary of these distant lands and long for the shade of my own household tree.

Sept. 5th, Saturday. This day the wind hauls ahead so that we cannt get out. We lie very nigh the shore and the most of the ship's company go out and in as they please.

Sept. 6th, Sunday. I go and hear the Rev. Mr. Smith preach from 2nd Thess. 2nd chap., 11 and 12 verses. At one P.M. the pilot comes onboard. We go to sea, bound home, home. The very thought gladdens the heart. We leave behind the ships, HIBERNIA of New London, 3500 bbls; GOV. TROOP, New Bedford, 3500; FLORIDA, New Bedford, 1300; JULIAN, New Bedford, 2400; CORVO, Stonington, 3500; TUSCARORA, Cold Spring, 100 bbls.; Bremen ship J. HAYDEN, 1300 and British ship JUNO, 34 guns outside. Outside we spoke the Bark BLACK WARRIER of New London, 1700 bbls. We let the CAROLINA of New London have 2 men. She has 2200, bound to Chile. The port charges at Honolulu for whalers is 6 cents per ton, for merchantmen 20 cts., the pilotage 2 dollars per foot. Two dollars must be paid for the buoys. Whalers are allowed to trade $200 duty free. The tariff is 5 per cent according to value in all the Islands. Spirituous liquors is $5 per gallon. They discourage the importation.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON
BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM
JUNE 28, 1844 TO MARCH 9, 1847.

Sept. 7th, Monday. Today we lose sight of the Sandwich Islands. The wind is light from the Eastward. We repair sails. We fall in with black fish, lower two boats but get none. We fall in with the BLACK WARRIER and have a gam. Capt. Chappel comes onboard of us. Mr. Lyons goes onboard of her.

Sept. 8th, Tuesday. This day is nearly calm with a swell from the Northwest. At daylight we are near the following ships: HIBERNIA and BROOKLYN of New London, ERIE of Fairhaven, TUSCARORA of Cold Spring. The BROOKLYN has got 1500 bbls. Capt. Jefrey onboard of us, took Capt. Chester and went to the HIBERNIA. Mr. Lyon and Mr. Peabody went onboard the BROOKLYN. Time moves on leaden pinions and Home, Home is afar off.

LOCAL DANCERS ATTEND JUNIOR SEMINAR

The Misses Sonja Paulsen of Marion and New Bedford, Anne P. Smith of Rochester and Georgianna Pimentel of New Bedford, pupils of Miss Marion Braman, attended the Junior Seminar, sponsored by the National Association of Dancers and Affiliated Artists at the Hotel Bradford in Boston. They were accompanied by their teacher.

The teachers who instruct come from all over the country for the course and are considered the best in their line. Instruction is received in tap, toe, ballet, modern, character, Spanish, Hawaiian, jazz interpretations, baton ballroom and acrobatic. The young dancers come from many parts of the country. A banquet is given for them at the beginning of the course and a large ball at the conclusion.

Anne and Sonja have appeared in local minstrel shows and have danced for clubs and other groups in New Bedford. Georgianna, an older student, has danced for charity affairs in New Bedford, and appeared in "Brigadoon", and in the play, "The Woman is Not For Burning".

My native land, my native land, oh how I long for thee. And bask in strong affection's smile beneath my household tree. Ah, solitary is our way across the trackless main. Ah, when will smiles from those I love cheer my sad heart again. The glorious sun goes down at night behind the western wave. And soon the sable pall of night enshrouds the light he gave. The stars like hope shine on us then with pale but glittering ray, until the glorious sun again proclaims another day.

Sept. 9th, Wednesday. This day the wind is East. There is 3 sail in sight ahead. We shift some water aft to trim ship and repair old sails.

Sept. 10th, Thursday. This day the trades are strong from East. We repair old sails.

Sept. 11th. Friday the trades continue strong from East. We repair sails and lay up some new topgallant sheets. We are near a bark today that we think is the BLACK WARRIOR.

Sept. 12th. Saturday the trades continue fresh from E by N. We do various light jobs. A ship comes near us steering SSE.

Sept. 13th. Sunday the trades are strong and variable from ENE to ESE with squalls of rain. We get Lunars.

Sept. 14th. Monday the wind has been light and variable with a plenty of rain. We repair our old topgallant sail.

Sept. 15th. Tuesday the wind is light and variable from all points of the compass with plenty of rain. There is a sail in sight.

Sept. 16th. Wednesday the wind is light from various quarters with rain pouring down in torrents the most of the time.

CEREMONY PERFORMED AT PLYMOUTH

Mrs. Charles Hamlin of Ned's Point Road, Mattapoisett called to suggest we let our readers know about a ceremony which is performed at Plymouth, Mass. Each Friday during August at 5 P.M. a group of Mayflower descendants in Puritan costume hold a ceremony depicting the tradition of our forefathers. In silence they form a procession, making their way to the top of Burial Hill. There, prayers and hymns are offered in the manner of the earliest days of our country. It is a very impressive thing to watch and should be a must for those interested in tradition. That's Fridays at 5 and only during August, so make it a point to attend this delightful pageantry.

Sept. 17th. Thursday the wind comes in light airs and changes evry 10 minutes. The night is as dark as the wing of the destroying angel and water pouring on us like a catarac with an occasional flash of lightning that gleams around the horizon.

Sept. 18th. Friday the wind is light and unsteady with showers of rain. Our progress is slow and discouraging.

Sept. 19th. Saturday the wind continues light and variable blowing most of the time today from the East. The rain falls in torrents and there is hardly a dry spot on deck or below. Mr. Lyons is not well.

Sept. 20th, Sunday. This day we have a moderate breeze from ESE to WSW changing often. We have plenty of rain at times. A squall split our flying jib and main royal.

Sept. 21st. Monday the wind is very light, veering all round the compass. I am thoroughly discouraged. It does seem as if I never Sept. 22nd, Tuesday. A part of this day is calm and a part of it the wind is light from various points of the compass with rain, rain as usual. We repair sails. There is a sail in sight afar off.

Sept. 23rd, Wednesday. This day we take a fresh and steady breeze from SE. I think they are the Southern trades. The weather is quite pleasant. We repair old sails.

Sept. 24th, Thursday is pleasant with a moderate breeze from SE. We repair old sails. And sight to depart hence.

Sept. 26th. Saturday is pleasant with a fresh breeze from ESE. We tacked ship twice last night to avoid a reef laid down on the chart. We continue to repair old sails.

Sept. 27th. Sunday is pleasant with strong breeze from ESE. The part of the Pacific that we are now in is dangerous to the navigator on account of reefs and islands that are laid down incorrect on the chart.

Sept. 28th. Monday the wind is fresh from E by N. Last night we ran off awhile WSW and lay by from 4 to 6 this morning. We are near islands and reefs.

Sept. 29th. Tuesday the trades are strong from ENE and pleasant. We keep a sharp look out for coral reefs, and mend old sails. Mr. Lyons has been sick but is better.

Sept. 20th. Wednesday the trades are quite moderate from ENE. We repair sails and are as usual surrounded by the same lonely monotonous scene.

ANNUAL AUCTION AT ROCHESTER WOMAN'S CLUB

Donations from club members and friends will be very much appreciated for the auction next Monday evening, August 28th, at 7:00 P.M. at the Rochester Woman's Clubhouse. Contributions may be left at the clubhouse on Sunday afternoon between three and five or if articles are to be picked up, call ROckwell 3-2015 in the evening or ROckwell 3-5377. Mrs. George Church, Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, Sr. and Mrs. David Fearing are the auction committee.

A white elephant collecting dust in your attic may become someone's prized possession. We are looking for dishes, old pictures and frames, toys, books glassware, metal articles, used furniture, lamps and bric-a-brac. Vegetables, plants, candy and home cooked pastries will go well, too.

This is grand family fun. Don't forget the date — next Monday evening, August 28th, at 7:00 P.M. Refreshments will be served.

BROCKTON FAIR TO OPEN SEPTEMBER SEVENTH

Fifty-three Southeastern Massachusetts Community and Industrial Exhibits are to be featured at the Brockton Fair.

Probably, what will be the most outstanding feature of the 1958 Brockton Fair, opening on Sunday, September 7, will be the displays of more than 53 Community's advantages and industrial exhibits that will be staged in the large "Home Show, building facing the main ticket gate on the Belmont Street entrance to the fair grounds.

This, the very first "All Southeastern Massachusetts Community and Industrical Exposition", is being sponsored by "The Southeastern Massachusetts Economic Conference", better known as "SEMECO".

With more than 53 communities participating in this exposition from all parts of Southeastern Massachusetts, the economy of this region has the assurance of being improved immeasurably, through the stimulation and increased interest at all local levels and the assured attraction of attention from many outside of this region, to the fact, that all of the communities in Southeastern Massachusetts region are making every effort to "pull themselves up by their own bootstraps" in an effort to strengthen the general economy throughout this entire region.

With each of the 53 participating communities having assumed the responsibility of lining up and assembling their own exhibits for this program in a "do it yourself" manner is evidence that the various exhibits will be extremely competitive, as each community will endeavor to make their exhibits of the advantages and industries of their own community as impressive as possible.

In addition to the various community exhibits -- SEMECO -- through the efforts of their fair committee, plans are underway for a large SEMECO Booth at the front of the large food building that will be shared by the Massachusetts Department of Commerce (all divisions), the United States Department of Commerce, the United States Defense Department, the Small Business Administration, the Massachusetts Business Development Corporation, all of whom will have interesting exhibits, material and personnel on hand to give assistance, advice and counselling to all businesses and industries as well as individuals (at no charge) to those who may wish these services.

All businesses and industries desiring assistance, financial or otherwise, or may be interested in establishing a business, or securing government contracts, or may be seeking new products for diversification, are urgently invited to visit any or all of the above agencies at the SEMECO booth, during the daytime (only) during the full week of the Brockton Fair.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM JUNE 28, 1844 TO MARCH 9, 1847.

Oct. 2nd. Friday is pleasant with the trades light from East. We continue to overhaul our bone. This morning we saw a sail like a speck on the horizon. It soon faded away and left us in our solitude.

Oct. 3rd. Saturday we have calms and light airs from various quarters with squalls of rain the latter part. We begin to cooper oil between decks.

Oct. 4th. Sunday we have calms, light airs from the southward and eastward, and squalls of rain. We continue to work on our oil between decks and finish it except 12 pipes, and stow away a part of the bone.

Oct. 5th. Monday the wind blows fresh from NE the most of the day with squalls of rain. We finish coopering our oil between decks. Night before last we stood 5 watches. Last night we hauled the head yards aback waiting for daylight. Then we ran off west for Picadores Island. We saw no land at 1 P.M. Then hauled her up SE by E.

Oct. 6th. Tuesday the trades are fresh from East, squally at night. We open some of our bone, dry it, repack it and stow it away.

Oct. 7th. Wednesday is quite pleasant with the wind about East and squally in the morning. We open and brush bone again today.

Oct. 8th. Thursday is pleasant with light and variable trades from East to SSE. We

KEITH OPENS HEADQUARTERS IN NEW BEDFORD

Hastings Keith, a candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, opened campaign headquarters here this week in the Vera Building on Union Street, New Bedford.

The West Bridgewater former state senator, who lost two years ago in a close contest to incumbent Congressman Donald W. Nicholson, said he would spend about half his time campaigning in the Greater New Bedford area.

He pointed out that in the 1956 campaign he had no headquarters "in this important city, a fact that I think cost me the election".

While Keith piled up a commanding lead in Plymouth County, Nicholson's heavier vote in New Bedford tipped the election in his favor.

"I had many loyal supporters in New Bedford, but I couldn't back up their work with personal campaigning because of legislative duties that kept me at the State House", said Keith.

Keith urged committee members at a luncheon at the New Bedford Hotel to help him wage a "clean campaign on issues of national and area-wide importance".

"I can't stress too much the need for hard work in this city and its surrounding towns.

"Greater New Bedford has a population of more than 150,000, and its commercial, industrial and fishing industries make it the most important economic center of the Ninth

MARION ART SHOW

The Marion Art Center deserves the applause of the community for its efforts and influence in bringing art and instruction to the area. The community building has been nicely renovated and makes a very good gallery, well lighted and with good wall area. With the interest and practice of art on the increase everywhere the Art Center is a welcome addition to the town.

The current show, which started August 17, and which will continue through August 30, is a collection of watercolor and oil paintings chosen by a jury consisting of Frederick Walkey, Arthur Polonsky and Edgar Dris-

Oct. 9th. Friday is pleasant with fresh trades from E by S. We do some caulking about decks and caulk down the main hatch to keep the bone dry.

October 10th. Saturday is cloudy the most of the time with a strong breeze from East and ESE. We repair our fore royal that was split last night in a squall. We are nearing the land.

Oct. 11th. Saturday at daylight we make the island of Whytootake. At 1 we came in with the land. There was 4 ships lying off and on. The ERIE of Fairhaven, NILE of Greenport, 12 mos. out, 1000 bbls.; MOGUL of New London, 2200 bbls; HOPE of New Bedford, 300 sperm, 600 whale, 28 mos. out. The Capt. goes ashore and we take six pipes ashore for water. The Lat. of the island is nearly correct.

coll. Hours are: daily 10-12 A.M. and 2-5:30 P.M. Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30-9:30 P.M.

The show was open to all New England artists. With few exceptions the canvases chosen are the work of non-objective and abstract practitioners. We urge that you go to see the show. It is not possible to describe this type of art which is better left to the taste of the viewer. Design and color without draftsmanship must necessarily depend completely on the imagination of the individual. The show is interesting in that it represents the contemporary trend so completely. It's a feast for the connoisseur of this sort of thing.

The winner of the oil painting $100.00 award was "Night" by Edward P. Togneri, and in this division "Clamdiggers" by A. J. Freedman received honorable mention. In the watercolor painting class "Barques des Pecheurs" by Lois Mailou Jones was the winner of the $50.00 prize and "Hongkong" by Peter Black received honorable mention.

MAGNIFICENT SUBSTITUTION AT MELODY TENT

The last performance of "The Most Happy Fella", presented at the Melody Tent at Hyannis last Saturday evening, was one of the most unusual of the season. On the day of the performance Alan Gilbert, who had been giving an outstanding performance in the lead role for two weeks, was taken ill with laryngitis. His doctor forbade him to go on. Gene Hollmann was contacted and flown to Hyannis to replace him in the part. Mr. Hollmann had played in more than 200 performances of this play but appeared on stage without even meeting his fellow actors in Hyannis.

Before the opening of the play Jo Hurt, who played Cleo, the second female lead, was sitting in a seat near us. She said that she would meet Mr. Hollmann for the first time on the stage during their bit. They met fittingly enough when they sang together the song, "Happy to Make Your Acquaintance".

This musical play was almost entirely in song with duet and trio singing. In his demanding part, Mr. Hollmann was wonderful. No one would believe that such a performance could take place without a rehearsal. This is particularly so in the tent where entrances are made from the aisles out of the audience from all points of the round stage. The performers play to all parts of the tent as they sing. Mr. Hollmann never missed a cue. The songs were a perfect blending of voice. At the conclusion of the play Mr. Hollmann received a thunderous ovation from the audience for his remarkable performance, and all

CHICKEN BARBECUE RALLY FOR HASTINGS KEITH

A huge, "Keith-for-Congress" chicken barbecue rally was pledged for former Senator Hastings Keith, Republican candidate for Congress, by 50 of his campaign workers.

The announcement was made at a gathering of Plymouth County town committee chairmen at Keith's home in West Bridgewater.

The barbecue will be held (rain or shine) at Peter's Grove in Kingston on Sunday, September 7, at 1:30 P.M. John Eldridge, moderator of the Town of West Bridgewater, is chairman.

Keith stressed his record as a former State Senator as the key to victory. "The people whom I served in the Plymouth District thought enough of my record to give me a plurality twice that of my first term", he said. "But there are people in other parts of the district whom we haven't reached...people who are unfamiliar with that record.

NOTE: People are still calling at the Presto to see the River Road arch bridge picture which was the cover picture for last week. Sorry to dissappoint everyone but the picture was sold shortly after the paper came out so it never was on display. There is one available of the Bass Harbor Head Lighthouse on Mt. Desert Island in McKinley, Maine (see June 19, 1958 Presto cover). This picture is framed and on display and will be sold at the same low price – $20. It would make a nice Christmas gift. GABRIEL, GOP CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESSIONAL SEAT SPEAKS FOR SOUTH SHORE AUDIENCE Foreign aid to friendly countries by the United States should be in the form of long-term, low interest bearing loans rather than outright grants of money, Governors Councilor Charles J. Gabriel of Hingham, GOP candidate for the Ninth Congressional District seat, declared Sunday when speaking before Hull, Cohasset, Marshfield, Scituate, Norwell and Rockland audiences.

"A great deal of American money has been spent in foreign countries through the aid program on useless construction," stated Gabriel, "as the latest issue of Readers Digest will attest--purpose---paying off our national debt."

Gabriel outlined his stand on Congressional issues of tariffs, foreign aid, national debt, taxes, labor unions and national defense.

"It has been said in politics that the easy way to gain an election is to take no stand on any controversial issues. I reject such a principle toady as I did when I sought a seat in the Executive Council. I feel confident that the thousands of voters within the Ninth District would prefer to vote for or against something than to vote for equivocation and lack of decision on the part of any candidate.

"I can only assure you that I shall bring to Congress for you within the Ninth District an honest conviction that there are two great economies to be accomplished in government——that there are basic issues involving points which have been reviewed through which we can guard against the dangers of inflation and the unreasonable demands of pressure groups with nothing more to offer our way of life than their own interests--and that--when elected--I shall undertake to be first--and of all things--your Congressman for the Ninth District with the interests and the problems of the District of paramount concern to me in the discharge of my duties as your elected Representative in Washington.

HERTER CHARGES DICTATORSHIP PATRONAGE

Lashing at the Furcolo $30 million state office building bill, Governor's Councillor Christian A. Herter, Jr., warned it was part of a "package deal" to use worthy projects in setting up an "untouchable dictator" with vast powers of patronage.

He said this "czar" would be William F. Callahan, chairman of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, who began establishing a "government of his own in 1952 when he jammed the toll road bill through the legislature".

The "complete dictatorship", Herter declared, would come when Callahan adds to his present control of hundreds of turnpike jobs and supply purchases, from the Berkshire Hills to Boston,. the following posts:

-----Self-perpetuating head of the proposed $30 million, 25 story state office building on the Scollay Square side of Beacon Hill, with power to buy and hire on a big scale.

------Supervision of the Sumner Tunnel and the proposed new tunnel under Boston harbor to East Boston.

------Head of the proposed Boston Common underground garage.

"The sad thing", Herter continued, "is that these important projects have been and are being used to win the support of the unsuspecting tax payers to the creation of an empire that no voter has a ghost of a chance of controlling. If the legislation is enacted in its present form the czar could wield his power over legislatures, governors and other state officers, pass on a vast number of contracts, hire and fire thousands of men and women, and, in fact, have a grip on all political activities in Massachusetts as long as he lives. It is a statewide patronage plot greater than ever conceived... it is a vicious behind-the-scenes scheme to be linked with the plan of the Democratic Party to control the legislature and redistrict the state until Massachusetts would become a one-party state."

Herter, who is Republican candidate for Attorney General, in his address prepared for delivery before the Norfolk County Republican Club at Hotel Motel, Route 128, asked:

"How long will the Massachusetts Port Authority be able to maintain its independence once the new organization of the Democrats is entrenched? Will not the next irresistible step be to have the legislature abolish the Port Authority and transfer its duties to Czar Callahan?

The candidate pointed to the loose financial provisions of the state office building legislation which authorizes a three-man independent, headed by Callahan, to borrow up to $30 million for any term at any interest rate. Theoretically, $30 million could be borrowed at five or six percent for fifty years, $20 million used for the facility and $10 million retained for uncontrolled uses he said. He also said there was no provision for a state audit, adding that under the proposed lease agreement the state would face an indefinite future with an unknown ever-mounting rental cost, hidden within the appropriations for individual state agencies in a state budget already close to a billion dollar mark.

"It is generally conceded," said Herter, "that construction of a state office building is essential. The best proposal to date seems to be the creation of a seven member, unpaid commission to be appointed by the governor for a five year term. Space needs of the state would be closely examined along with the probable cost of construction, cost of operation and best methods of sound financing. Herter pointed out that the proposed substitute plan would not slow down construction. Even under the Furcolo bill, construction could not begin immediately. "AIR FORCE DAY" OPENING OF BROCKTON FAIR

Sunday, September 7th, the opening day of the Brockton Fair will be "Air Force Day", with a special program being staged by the United States Air Force Band and Drum Corps, with Helicopter life saving and simulated crash landings and fire fighting exhibitions by the Air Force in the large Fair Oval, will all be worth seeing, men, women and children alike.

Lowell L. Gray of Avon, who is in charge of the "SEMECO FAIR PROGRAM, and has been lining up the various communities, state and federal agencies, has received official word that all will be on hand and that all exhibits and programs will be most impressive and entertaining with many local communities putting on special events, band concerts, choral groups and other forms of entertainment by local High School bands — singing, with some communities planning a full day to boost their community.

As a special attraction for the opening day, the committee is completing arrangements for suitable official opening ceremonies on a large band stand at the front of the food building at 1:00 Sunday, September 7th, with many local, county, state and national dignitaries participating in the official opening of these exhibits.

All local, county, state and national officials representing this region have been invited to attend and take part in the opening ceremonies, with all schools in every community in the region having been requested to cooperate by having at least one busload of children attend the opening of these exhibits with suitable banners to show the community they are representing to give an added boost to their community.

It is hoped that all children and all parents in the entire region will attend and visit the exhibits to bring to their attention the importance and value of the resources and advantages that their community has to offer to those who may wish to locate in Southeastern Massachusetts as a home, place of business, a site for new industrial plant or as a place to spend the very best vacation anywhere in the nation.

All in all, with this most fabulous exhibition of the advantages and industries of more than 53 communities, the various state and federal agencies' exhibits, and the United States Air Force program (that all should make an effort to visit) and all the special events being planned, should attract many thousands of persons to the Fair this year that probably have not been to the Fair in years.

With this particular type community program and the week long special events and with the sincere and fullhearted cooperation of President George Carney, Jr.,the participation by the various county, state and federal agencies the future success of the Brockton Fair is assured and the future economy of all Southeastern Massachusetts also assured.

This fabulous program, the very first of its kind ever staged by Southeastern Massachusetts Communities as a promotion of the entire region, is made possible only through the gen-

RECORD HOP IN ROCHESTER

SEE - SAW

A pleasing sight - a youngster buying a present for her mother and asking to have it gift wrapped. Who could refuse?

New name for sea gulls - "wild birds" - called same by small boy. Certainly many times they sound wild.

Scenes at an auction - small boy thrilled with a saddle for which he bid. No one - but no one bid against him.

Auctioneer insisting on a $25.00 bid. Little fellow about 4 years old in his mother's lap called $25.00. He was only trying to be obliging.

Auctions are sad, amusing, lots of fun. It's nice to know people who appreciate other people's treasures. Many times paying excessive prices for what they truly want.

Some one who years ago saw and enjoyed the movie serials, "The Perils of Pauline" with Pearl White, and "The Iron Claw". Always continued to the next week in the most exciting moment of the picture. One had to go the following week.

Boy calls on telephone and asks have you any baseball caps? Yes. Have you got one to fit me?

Saw nine beautiful black retriever puppies. Saw Jerry Randall's baby donkey, Peter, born last Thursday. Saw the mother, Topsy, who

Many people and cars at Mattapoisett wharf last Thursday night. Boats being hauled on dry land and many taken home. At this writing many have been put back in the water again as hurricane Daisy went out to sea nodding to the fishes. Glad she did!

WHIST PARTIES AT ROCHESTER

The Rochester Woman's Club will resume their whist parties at the clubhouse on Tuesday, September 9th. Mrs. Katherine Hartley will be in charge.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON
BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM
JUNE 28, 1844 TO MARCH 9, 1847.

Oct. 12th, Monday. This day we get off 45 bbls. of water, 5 boat loads of wood and 3 boat loads of pineapples, pumpkins, bananas, cocoanuts & C for which Capt. Chester pays in calico, iron hoops cut up 3 feet long and various articles about ship. The best trade is blue twill and white cotton goods. The price of wood is 4 dollars per whale boat full. The natives fill the water. A ship may keep near the shore without danger and take in wood and water. There is no anchorage. There is plenty of wood already cut. At 8 P.M. we get all onboard and go to sea. We run off WSW 4 hours, or 20 miles, to clear coral reefs that make off nearly that distance. The Island Whytootake I should think is nearly round, 20 or 25 miles in circumference, covered with a luxuriant vegetation such only as a tropical climate can produce. The huts of the natives are built of coral stone, white washed and thatched. The interior is filthy and naked indeed. They seem to have but few mats and of a very poor

Rise and walk. Yes, walk to the sea
  Pick you a rock to rest upon
And be still
      And listen
              Observe the sea
Ocean of the air ruffle the plastic surface of the sea. Ripples rise, peak and softly glow with the silver of the moon.
  Meander in and swish the sand and tumble
  the small particles.
Then draw back to gather strength.

Around the rocks,
  the gurgle of the fluid sucks and swells
  The green weed bends, sways with the rhythm of the rise and retreat. Silent wands in an envelope of transparent beauty
  Stretching far, to the mighty mountains and valleys of the deep.
This precious fluid, this life blood of the earth, this pulsing sea flows in rivers far from the world of man.
Down, down to the depths,
  to the cradle of life,
  to the eternal darkness and cold.
And in the deep, the stream flows and then to rise and wash the shore of all the earth.
The sun warms and draws and the sea takes wing, lifts in the ocean of the air, there to sail in white majestic splendor over the surface of the earth.
  To loose its fluid to the thirsty land and bring life.
In another place the troubled water in the sea will rise in torment, the beat quickens. The white spume tears loose from the mother wave that speeds
To the shore
  To pound in thunder rolls. To scream, to tear, to lash the quaking earth.
  To rise and bellow in a crescendo of fury, of power and might to engulf and rip the shore.
Later
    To subside
    To return to the bosom of the deep.
    Gentle on the shore, healing its wounds.

  Now blue, then green to sunset spectrum
This ever changing Ocean
  Slate grey chill to boiling white and softly glowing phosphorescence. That tang of salt upon the breeze is the very spice of life.
You, who live and breathe the salt,
If you can rest on the shore at night
  and listen
  as you contemplate the sea and not feel washed, with life renewed
  There is no help for you, my friend,
  You need your tranquilizer pills.

quality. They are a finely formed race, not very dark, but filthy and lazy. They dwell in a land as beautiful as eden where the food grows spontaneously. They dwell in groves of bread fruit, orange, lemon, cocoanut, bananas, plantain. The ground is covered with pumpkins, pineapples and many other things that grow without culture. Yams and sweet potatoes grow without much cultivation. There is one English missionary and his wife on the island. It seems that he acts as prosecutor to the King. The laws are strictly enforced. There is constables in abundance. All trade must be carried on ashore. Evry ship trades at a different market.

Oct. 13th. Tuesday begins with heavy trades from E. We take in topgallant sails, single reef, the main topsail and double reef the fore and mizzen. We sort out and hang up our fruit.

Oct. 14th. Wednesday the wind is strong from ESE. We set the topgallant sails over single reefed topsails. We repair old sails and cut some wood and stow away in the sun. We pass the island of Oaruta.

Oct. 15th. Thursday the wind blows strong from ESE with a rough sea. Our good ship heels very easily. At 7 bells our fore topsail split. We unbend it and bend another. Some one made fast a fore topgallant studding sail boom carelessly. It came down, struck on the sail and went overboard. We lowered a boat and got it. Tis a wonder that it did not kill no one. We repair our foretopsail. The weather is getting cold again. We have bid adieu to the beautiful islands of the Pacific, making the best of our way to Cape Horn and then home. There is magic in the word.

I have seen many beautiful islands that lie
In the bright sunny south neath a tranquil sky
Yet my own native hills with their vallies of green
Are dearer to me than those isles I have seen.

There is a beautiful trait of the South Sea Islanders in seeking a resting place for their dead. They choose some bright sunny spot and make each little mound white with coral and lime. Some of my own countrymen might profit by the example of these simple islanders.

Oct. 16th. Friday the wind is fresh from ESE. We break out forward and stow down 3 pipes of water and some wood. We pump ship and find that the ship leaks some.

Oct. 17th. Saturday begins with the wind light and unsteady. At 3 P.M. it blows strong from Se, a steady breeze. We send down the mizzen topgallant and royal yards and lay up topsail braces out of our old manilla fluke rope. Have not had our mizzen topsail set for 4 or 5 days. Our ship steers bad.

Oct. 18th. Sunday is cold with the wind strong from E by S. We begin to see the albatross and other signs of a stormy sea. We send down the mizzen topsail and cross jack yards.

Oct. 19th. Monday the wind is unsteady from ESE and NE by E. We send down the main-topgallant back stays and knot it. They were stranded. We likewise finish our foretopsail braces.

Oct. 20th. Tuesday is cloudy with rain. The latter part the wind is NE and N. We set the foretopmast and topgallant studdingsails and steer E by S and ESE. Four of the starboard sleep below in their watch on deck and Capt. Chester keeps them aloft scraping and slushing the topmasts all their watch below.

Oct. 21st. Wednesday is rainy with a strong breeze from NNW. At 4 P.M. the wind suddenly shifted to S and blew strong for half an hour. We called all hands to take in sail and let go hallyards fore and aft studdingsails, royals, topsails, jibs, clew up and clew down all and everything in most happy confusion. The fore topmast studdingsail hallyards parted, the sail went over-

It was announced that Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, Sr. had been appointed State Federation Scholarship Chairman.

A report was given on the record hops held on Wednesday evenings during the summer at the clubhouse. Mrs. David Fearing, chairman, reported that they were very successful. The last midweek dance was held on Thursday, September 4, and the next dance will be on Saturday night, September 20. The club will sponsor one Saturday night dance a month through December.

Reports on the successful bazaar and smorgasbord were given by Mrs. Albert Hellyer and Mrs. Henry Smith. Mrs. George Church reported on the auction which was very well attended and profitable.

Mrs. George Church said that if any member had used eye glasses around the house that were no longer needed she would be glad to take them as they can be made over and used again for worthy cases.

Whist parties will start again on September 9, Tuesday night, and Mrs. Greenwood Hartley, Oct. 22nd. Thursday begins with a wild and fearful scene around us with strong gales from S and a dark and lowering sky, the ship arunning East under single reefed fore and main topsails. The latter part of the day the sun is out and quite pleasant with a strong breeze from SSW.

Oct. 23rd. Friday the wind is unsteady from SW and pleasant a part of the time. We unbend the jib, repair it and put on bands.

Oct. 24th. Saturday begins with a moderate breeze from the West except an occasional frown on the face of the Heavens. At 6 A.M. and after there was several strong gusts of wind, the beginning of a gale from the SW.

The gale blows strong and heavy from SW, SSW, S, SSE, then SSW again. Our ship groans in the spirit as she veers off ENE. before the gale. Old ocean's white maned coursers are in motion.

Oct. 25th. Sunday the gale continues from SSW and S, the ship running off ENE with a heavy sea on the quarter. Very often one comes onboard like the visit of a catarac. The jib split. We took it in, repaired it, bent it again and furled it. I look upon our two topsails with fear and trembling. The scene around us is grand.

Oct. 26th. Monday begins with squalls of rain. The wind subsides into a moderate breeze from S. We shake out reefs, set the Oct. 27th. Tuesday the wind is light from SSE and cloudy, We unbend the foresail and repair it and do some other little jobs.

Oct. 28th. Wednesday the wind is strong from ESE. We repair old sails - and sigh for a favorable breeze.

Oct. 29th. Thursday the wind is SE and increasing. At 4 P.M. the ship is under double reefed fore and maintopsail with jib furled heading ENE and laboring heavily. We repair the main topsail. At 6 the gale increases. We heave the ship to under a close reefed maintopsail and foresail and fore topmast staysail. The sky has assumed its angriest frown and the tempest howls in its wildest cadence. This night the spirit of the storm is abroad.

Oct. 30th, Friday. This day begins with the spirit of the tempest howling wildly around us, and the sea lashed into fury by the storm runs mountains high. Our ship rolls deep and heavy, and sadly complains of her load between decks. She is weak about her stern and leaks 100 strokes of the pump an hour. At daylight we goose wing the foresail and soon after furl it. The fore topmast staysail split and we take it in. At 9 A.M. the maintopsail split. We made a goose wing of it set the main spencer. The ship lies verry well under her present sail. The chock at the heel of the jib boom gave out and it came in a little. No obs'n.

Oct. 31st. Saturday begins with the storm abating and the wind hauling slowly to the

MESSAGE OF THANKS TO MOTORING PUBLIC

An open letter from Registrar Clement A. Riley, Chairman, Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee.

"As Registrar of Motor Vehicles and Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, I wish to thank the two million Massachusetts drivers for their accident-free driving over the holiday week-end.

"Your reasonable operation made it possible for Massachusetts to compile the best Labor Day record in the history of our State. We had one (1) motor vehicle highway traffic fatality during the 78-hour period from Friday at 6 P.M. through midnight Monday.

"You demonstrated your ability to save lives during this peak movement of highway travel," said the Registrar, "and enforcement officials throughout the Commonwealth appreciate your cooperation."

TOP JUDGES FOR BROCKTON FAIR HORSE SHOW

Two of the country's best judges will officiate at the Brockton Fair Horse Show September 12 to 14. They are Eric Atterbury of Washington, D. C., and Walter Reid from Greenwich, Connecticut. Their services were obtained by Show Manager Frank Flynn, who has set up this year's show, which will include every type of horse, divided into 116 classes.

Mr. Atterbury has judged at the nation's top shows for many years, having formerly been manager of the National Horse Show in Madison Square Garden. He's known from coast to coast for his skill and fine judgement in awarding ribbons and trophies to all types of horses. At Brockton, Atterbury will judge hunters and jumpers, in addition to equitation classes, Arabians, Palominoes and hacks.

Mr. Reid, too, has a national reputation in the show ring. He operates a large training stable at Greenwich, exhibiting saddle mounts and gaited steeds at the country's leading shows.

While entries are expected from all over the East, much emphasis will be placed on classes for local owners and riders who live within 35 miles of the Fair. More than 300 local owners have been invited, since that number are eligible for this phase alone. Much interest has already been evidenced in the new course for hunters and jumpers, which has been constructed in the infield. More than $3,500.00 in cash prizes, trophies and ribbons will be distributed.

The Delicious Flavor Will Win Your Favor!

FALL ON CAPE COD

Fall is one of the nicest times of the year to visit Cape Cod. The summer people have all left leaving a quiet but peaceful air everywhere. The water is bluer, even the sand looks whiter, and after the many rains we had this summer, the grass is greener.

A delightful place to stop and enjoy a picnic lunch or just for the view is Nauset Light beach in the town of Eastham. Nauset Light stands high on a cliff overlooking a beautiful sandy beach and the ocean. You can see for miles. There are benches at the parking area at the top of the cliff or a long flight of steps leads down to the beach. The surf was coming in beautiful last Wednesday. The water looked ideal. How we wished we had taken our bathing suits with us. Many people were enjoying the water young people were riding the surf in on plastic rafts.

All was quiet in the charming small town of Wellfleet. A few men were fishing off the town pier and a few sailboats enjoying a sail in the harbor.

Provincetown was still very busy with many tourists visiting the many gift shops that line the streets there and walking out on the long wharves for a view of the harbor and Provincetown monument.

Other beautiful views are seen from Race Point in Provincetown and at the North Truro Light.

If you have a day off and want to go somewhere, take a trip to Cape Cod. Don't stay on the main highways. You can see so much more by taking interesting looking side roads leading to many hidden coves and delightful parts of the Cape that most people never see.

FUNGUS GROWTH ON WOOD

Charles Little of Brandt Island Road, Mattapoisett is showing a strange fungus growth on rotted wood. It begins as a cluster of white egg shapes, upended. From the top of each "egg" a snake-like growth appears, a few each day. These "snakes" are 5 to 6 inches long, rigidly upright, bright red, with black heads. As they wilt they arch over having the appearance of a crab's legs. The whole growth is hideous and uncanny, has a horrible odor and is about a foot in diameter.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON
BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM
JUNE 28, 1844 TO MARCH 9, 1847.

Nov. 4th. Wednesday the wind is nearly East and moderate and cloudy. The carpenter puts some graving pieces in the deck. The same tiresome monotony surrounds us day after day. This day ends with a calm. This night by Star Rigel.

Nov. 5th. Thursday begins with a calm. At 3 A.M. a breeze springs up from the North so soft and gentle I think it must have strayed from the tropical vales of some bright isle at the North. It seems indeed a strange in this stern region.

Gentle breeze, Gentle breeze Ah return back again,
Oh why linger here in the storm King's Domain?
He soon will sweep by with a frown on his brow
And crush with his might gentle Zephyrs like thou.

Nov. 6th. Friday begins with a moderate breeze from WNW with fine rain. We set the studdingsails. The day is quite pleasant and the wind continues soft and pleasant. Course SE by E.

Nov. 7th. Saturday the wind is strong from NNW with fine rain. A norther is now breathing upon us in earnest.

Nov. 8th. Sunday the wind is strong from NW with fog and sunshine and some rain. We split our last topmast studdingsail. We are poor devils.

Nov. 9th. Monday begins with the wind fresh from N. Course ESE. At daylight the wind dies away and veers round S. It steals by us as softly as if it had just strayed from the vale of peace. At noon it died away into a calm. At 5 P.M. Old Boreas swept by from the south as if in search of the gently fugitive of the morning. We take in the light sails and double reef the topsails. Rain falls all day in torrents.

Nov. 10th. Tuesday begins with a fresh breeze from South. Clear and pleasant. The wind veers westward. At 4 P.M. it is SW. We repair fore topmast studdingsail and flying jib. We are now out of material for repairing sails.

Nov. 11th. Wednesday the wind is strong from WSW. Our studdingsails become tattered. We take them in and repair and set them. The speed of our ship is not fast but it is strong

Nov. 12th. Thursday the wind is strong from SW and W. We hoist out the pumps and examine the pump well. The weather is cold but not unpleasant.

Nov. 13th. Friday begins with the wind WSS and ends with it blowing strong from NW.

Nov. 14th. Saturday the wind blows a gale from NW with rain pouring down in torrents. The ship is running off ESE before it like a frightened deer before the hunters. Our fore topmast studdingsail split to pieces. We set a jib as a substitute and that split. Then comes on wild and dreary. We put the ship under short sail.

Nov. 15th. Sunday the wind comes suddenly

CONVENTION FOR REPUBLICAN WOMEN IN BOSTON.

No effort has been spared by the committee members planning activities for the Convention of the National Federation of Republican Women, which is to be held at the Hotel Statler in Boston, September 24-26.

Opening the convention on Wednesday, September 24th, will be a historic tour of Boston, which should be an especially memorable occasion for the out-of-state delegates. The tour will include stops at Paul Revere House, Bunker Hill, U. S. Frigate Constitution, Old North Church, and many other of Boston's most fascinating and historical sights.

Following this, there will be a reception and tea at Mrs. Jack Gardner's Venetian Palace, where guests will enjoy guided tours among the Renaissance paintings and a program of music. The hostesses for the reception will be members of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Republican Organizations, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William W. Jenness of Quincy.

At 5:45 on Wednesday, chartered buses will leave the Statler for a drive around Massachusetts Bay to the South Shore, and the beautiful Surf Ballroom in Nantasket Beach, where the ladies will enjoy a real New England style clambake.

Thursday, September 25th, a luncheon, under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Frederick J. Cutler of Quincy and Mrs. David Shulman of Waban, will feature as decorations (but not as the menu) authentic Boston bean pots. The banquet that evening will carry a Paul Revere theme, with Paul Revere lanterns at the head table. Co-chairmen for the banquet will be Mrs. Deane Carstensen of Melrose, Miss Eleanor Wheeler of Scituate and Mrs.

SEE - SAW

Hyannis: Quiet now. Clerks appreciate you after the busy summer. Crisp air. Just grand. It rained but we had fun just the same.

Visited town beach at Aucoot, Mattapoisett Thursday. Clouds were beautiful. We watched them making different forms as they moved rapidly along. Saw a duck, chicken and a seahorse in the clouds. Of course imagination helped.

Mustn't forget the cute little puppies we saw down there. Part beagle.

On the beach we saw many dragon flies with their gold glossy wings. They were flying all around us. Aucoot seemed to be their home.

Beginning to see the hula hoops everywhere. Saw the inventor and manufacturer on the TV program, "What's My Line", Sunday night. He is a young man who is on the top right now.

Last but not least on the calendar of events, is a luncheon on Friday, where lovely Dresden china elephants loaned by the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts will grace the luncheon table. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Bancroft Wheeler of Worcester and Mrs. Dean Hanscon of Beverly.

From the looks of things now, these will be a few days for Republican women long to remember, thanks to the efforts of the Massachusetts Federation's committee on banquets and luncheons, headed by Mrs. Charles H. Whiteacre of Swampscott and Mrs. Robert J. Schindler of Halifax.

EXCHANGE STUDENT RESIDING IN MARION

Among the eight exchange students in this area this year, from Pakistan, Zarrn Dastur, 17, of Karachi, has arrived in Marion, Mass. and will make her home with the Thomas Weavers of Converse Road, while she completes her senior year at Wareham High School.

Zarrn was welcomed at a tea Sunday at the Weaver home which afforded an opportunity for her to personally meet the Field Service Committee.

We take this opportunity to welcome Zarrn to this area and hope her stay here will be a very happy experience she may long remember.

FROM THE LOG OF THE WHALESHIP CHARLESTON
BY DANIEL A. BALDWIN ON THE VOYAGE FROM
JUNE 28, 1844 TO MARCH 9, 1847.

Nov. 16th. Monday the wind is strong from NW and WNW. Our goodly ship runs off East with light sails set.. She seems to be in earnest to get home. The copper is so bad on her bottom that we can only get 7½ miles per (hour or day?) from her. We heave the log evry 2 hours.

Nov. 17th. Tuesday the wind is strong from WNW and our ship going on her greatest speed, propelled by old Ocean's white maned coursers and the breath of the tempest King. We . take in the light sails at noon. Our studdingsails are like gossamer. The barometer is falling and a storm begins to overshadow us at 4 P.M.

Nov. 18th. Wednesday begins with rain from the north. At 4 A.M. the wind comes out suddenly from S by W cold and strong. We reef the topsails. It veers steadily till it settles WSE by noon when it blows strong. We set the studdingsails. At 6 P.M. dark gray clouds begin to roll up from SW like the events of the future that cast shadows before. We reduce the sail till we get the ship under double reefed topsails. The storm very soon began to howl. Our ship scuds off before it in contempt of the warring elements.

The gale wailed mournfully amongst our spars and rigging. I almost felt as if Spirits from the invisible World was near, sent to hold communion with us desolate

FASHION SHOW TO BE SPONSORED BY WOMAN'S CLUB

"Autumn Serenade", a parade of Fall fashions, will be presented by Cherry & Co. of New Bedford at the Mattapoisett Center School auditorium Friday, October 10th, at 8 P.M. The style show is being sponsored by the Ways and Means Committee of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club. Mrs. Mario Gallo of Baptist Street, SK 8-2005, is in charge of tickets. Proceeds will benefit the club's Scholarship Fund.

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD TO AID AT EAGLE FARM BARN

Now that insurance regulations have been completed the Eagle Farm Barn on Cyrstal Spring Road, Mattapoisett can be rased. It is now planned that on Monday, October 13th, the members of the Men's Brotherhood of Rochester who volunteered to do the task will as a group come down and dismantle the remains of the structure and burn them in the fields. Planning along with them are the ladies who assist Marjorie Morris at her auctions. They will, on the day before, prepare a chowder dinner for the workers.

This is just one of the many fine things wanderers. Like the sweet singers of Israel I almost coveted the wings of a dove to flee away to the mansions of Peace.

Nov. 19th. Thursday begins with a little better weather. We set topgallant sails and shake out reefs more than once today. The wind is strong and squally with rain the latter part. Wind W and WSW. We run under short sail tonight. The barometer is down to 29¾ inches.

Nov. 20th. Friday begins with rain and wind S. At daylight squalls of hail, rain and wind begin to hover oer us. We sometimes have a ray of sunshine glancing through when all behind are tears. We have aplenty of snow squalls today.

Nov. 21st. Saturday the first part of the day the wind is light from SW and NW. At 6 P.M. it is light from NE with plenty of rain.

Nov. 22nd. Sunday begins with a moderate breeze from about E and some attempts at squalls. At 7 bells we let a reef out of each topsail. The ship is going 2½ knots and barometer rising. The most of this day is pleasant with sunshine, the wind from E to NE. Very cold.

Nov. 22nd (sic) Monday begins with very pleasant weather, wind N at 3 A.M. By an obs'n of the Star S I make the lat. 49° 40'. The wind increases and the bright face of Heaven begins to assume an angry frown. At 10 A.M. the rain begins and the wind settles in WNW. At 6 P.M. we took in studdingsails and double reefed the foretopsail. This day Capt. Chester sets up our little cabin stove

WOMAN'S CLUB TO SPONSOR COMMUNITY CALENDAR

Mrs. Timothy O'Brien, chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the Rochester Woman's Club, announced recently that the club has agreed to sponsor a community birthday calendar for the year 1959. Proceeds are to benefit the Raymond C. Hartley Scholarship Fund. There was a meeting on Monday evening, September 22nd, to report on the progress. Similar calendars have been adopted in Marion and Mattapoisett for useful fund raising purposes. The calendar is very convenient to refer to for club meeting dates, birthdays and wedding anniversaries of your friends, and there is additional space for writing in personal engagements. Members of the committee will introduce the calendar to Rochester residents during the next few weeks. If there is a good response, the club hopes to give a larger scholarship to a Rochester graduate this coming year. The club has awarded scholarships for the last fourteen years.

BROTHERHOOD AUCTION

The Men's Brotherhood of Rochester will hold an auction at the Rochester Grange Hall on Saturday, October 25th. Marjorie Morris of Mattapoisett will be the auctioneer.

in his own state room for his own exclusive use and benefit. The cabin is damp and cold so that we have to get into our berths and cover up to warm ourselves. The thermometer at 48 and still going down unless kept up by artifical means. At 9 at night the wind gets round SW. At midnight S with snow squalls and some clear sky. We make some sail.

Nov. 23rd. Tuesday begins with the wind strong from South. At daylight tis more pleasant. We shake all the reefs out and set the foretopgallant sail and flying jib. The rest of this day the wind keeps veering from S to WNW, sometimes strong, sometimes calm. I yesterday stated what was wrong when I said the stove was stowed away for the exclusive use of Capt. Chester. It is for him and Mr. Comstock. None of the rest are allowed any benefit from it. Why this should be so I know not, but so it is. I am not aware of our giving offence. We are now off Cape Horn where hail, rain and snow falls more or less evry watch. In consequence we go below with feet wet and cold to a room where the thermometer would almost stand at the freezing. And the best we can do we can hardly get warm in our watch below. Mr. Comstock goes below wet and cold. He is ushered into the Captain's Sanctum where a warm stove awaits him, a place where us three poor Devils can never intrude. This is beyond anything I ever saw before. Yet it is so. I know not, unless we are found wanting in a wedding garment, why the fire is placed beyond our reach when it might accomodate all hands. Publish it not in Gath nor in the streets of Ascalon.

Nov. 25th (sic). Wednesday begins with the wind strong from S by E with several squalls of snow, rain and hail. The wind increases and we take in sail gradually till

SEE - SAW

It is fun when riding to wonder where a road ends. We took such a road out of Buzzards Bay called Plymouth Lane. It was a hard, dirt road about 4 miles long and ended north of Plymouth, Mass. Off this road were two lakes, one named Ezekiel Lake and the other White Island Lake. Many summer cottages were on their shores. Lakes we didn't care to see were in the road also. There were a few of these washouts covering most of the width of the road. We managed to drive through them without a mishap. Stopped at an antique shop named "The Cottage". It was a very old cottage with wide board flooring, very low ceilings, stairs like ladders and interesting fireplaces.

A unique conversation piece was in one of the rooms. It was an ornate gold leaf bedroom set complete with 2 gold cabinets, floor mirror and gold screen. The lady told us it came from Austria and belonged to nobility. It is for sale and was almost sold to a young Texan couple, but alas the bed is 6 feet long and the young man was 6 feet 4 inches. They probably had a home to fit the bed. I certainly hope so as it would look out of place in the majority of homes.

Stopped at Hob's Hole House in Plymouth for lunch. The dining room overlooks the harbor but it was raining and was foggy. The fog lifted suddenly and we heard a lady say, "Oh look at the water". We just presumed everyone knew the harbor was there. We take so many things for granted. For instance, the waitress told us of some young people that were eating there this summer. They were eating shellfish for the first time. The young lady wanted to know "what animal the scallop came from".

10 A.M. when we furl the foretopsail and close reef the main. At times the wind howls wildly and the sea as white as the Bulls of Bashan. The wind moderate at 7 P.M. We set double reefed topsails. The wind here is very unsteady.

Nov. 26th. Thursday begins with a moderate breeze from S by E. At 7 bells it is SW. All the light sails we have are now set. Our topmast studdingsail is split. We set the lower studdingsail without it but it would not work, so we hauled it in. A dark frown is gathering on the face of the Heavens, then comes round W and we have a rain storm that lasts 18 hours. It began with a little snow and hail intermingled. The Capt. today puts in a skylight and alters his stove pipe a little for the better accomodation of himself and Mr. Comstock. He told the cook at the galley this morning in the hearing of others the reason that he did not have the stove out in the cabin where we could warm by it was we should be too comfortable "by a damned sight". Why we three poor Devils are put under the ban again I know not. Evry thing went on pleasant as a marriage till the Capt. assumed an unsocial demeanor towards us for reasons unknown to us. But to my sorrow be it said he has been under the influence of an Arch Intriguer the most of the voyage.

AMERICA'S CUP RACE

The first race at Newport for the America's Cup was followed with much interest by the people in our towns. Since it turned out to be a romp for the Columbia, the United States defender of the cup, it was also an indication of the merits of the two yachts. Althouth we like to see the United States yacht the winner, we hope that the British "Sceptre" and her crew get stronger winds for the rest of the races. Since she was built for the heavier going it seems a shame that she is racing in a 3 knot breeze that doesn't show her up well and makes for a very dull contest.

Over the years, the American yacht designers have proven their ability to design the best and fastest boats in the world. Olin Stephens, designer of the Columbia, was also designer of the Yankee which we had on last week's cover. The Yankee, 1937 defender, won in 4 straight tries over the Endeavour II. As the American yachtsmen have shown their superiority over all the years of the yachting classic, the British particularly starting with Sir Thomas Lipton have proven to be wonderful sportsmen. So we hope for wind, strong wind, so that these two boats can make a real race out of the series and so that the best points of both can be seen. We hope the British can make an encouraging showing from here on in so that these classic races will be, once more, an event that will continue throughout the years ahead.

ATTENDED LIBRARY ASSOCIATION MEETING

Mrs. Kenneth Winslow, librarian of the Rochester Library, attended a committee meeting of the Massachusetts Library Trustees Association at the home of Mrs. Roberta S. Barnet of New Bedford.

MATTAPOISETT VILLAGE SHOP WILL BE MISSED

With the closing of the Village Shop on Water Street, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel LeBaron, we are aware that with the changing times many things close to us are affected. It doesn't seem that many years of loyal service makes too much difference to a busy, buying public. People's habits and mode of travel change. Because of this gradually more and more regular customers become irregular callers until it is no longer practical to operate as a business. So comes the end of another enterprise which was as much Mattapoisett as the Town Wharf itself.

We do know that over the years friends have been made by the LeBarons in abundance, and it is our wish that in retirement from business they will now have the time, never before avaiable, to more fully enjoy these friends, and the personal activities of their choice.

Service has been the Motto of the Village Shop. Even in its closing days they have extended many courtesies to assist others to prosper. It seems inevitable in the future to believe that they will continue to be of service for the good of Mattapoisett in their retirement. It is just the kind of people they are.

We wish them good health and years of happiness ahead, and the best of everything they so surely deserve.

GIBBONS BEGINS CAMPAIGNING FOR GOVERNOR

Charles Gibbons, Republican candidate for Governor, charged this week that the present Governor "is denying jobs and career opportunities in state service to veterans by using tricky devices to evade veterans' preference requirements".

During the first week of his campaigning, Mr. Gibbons, who received a record-breaking sticker and write-in endorsement of his candidacy in the September primary, toured nearly every section of the state.

In talks before groups large and small, Mr. Gibbons detailed "the looting of our resources to provide unearned income through fantastically high wages and fees for loafers and incompetents".

Mr. Gibbons charged that the present Governor was violating the spirit and intent of Civil Service laws and regulations by hiring expensive "consultants" for work "which should and could be done properly and more efficiently by people working under normal Civil Service titles".

He went on to say that the present State Administration has tripled the use of consultants in less than two years.

Promising a campaign which would "expose in all its black detail the squandering of our tax revenues", Mr. Gibbons said "the times are too crucial for our state to engage in anything but an all-out fight".

A small boy at the zoo asked why the giraffe had such a long neck. "Well, you see," said the keeper gravely, "the giraffe's head is so far removed from his body that a long neck is absolutely necessary."

FRANK VINING SMITH EXHIBITION AT SWAIN SCHOOL

The work of Mr. Frank Vining Smith, one of the best marine artists in this country is now being shown at the Crapo Gallery at the Swain School in New Bedford, Mass. The show is one which will be very popular in this area for we are close to the sea and shore which these paintings depict so masterfully. There are many ships among the paintings in all sorts of lighting and sea condition.

Some time recently, you have seen Mr.Smith's painting reproduced. When you see the paintings, you will find the style familiar to you. Please don't miss this show. The reproductions can't capture the life and brilliance of the original canvas. It is all too seldom that we have a chance to see work like this. Almost every painting is an art lesson to the person who paints and a treat to anyone who enjoys a good painting done by a skillful hand.

Mr. Smith has had exhibitions in major cities from coast to coast and his paintings hang in museums and in private collections all over the country. He lives in Hingham, Mass and for many years he spent his summers on Cape Cod at Quissett. Two of the paintings are of sand dunes on the Cape. On the opposite wall from the entrance to the gallery, the second picture from the right is a whaler which was painted especially for this show. This is one of three which were just finished for this showing.

The exhibition will be open until friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Make a special trip to New Bedford to see this exhibition. There are few people who have the skill to paint like this.

While you are at the Swain School, which is directed by Mr. Philip Kelsey of Mattapoisett,

DO YOU SEE ANYTHING?

Every so often on the Jack Paar television show he uses ping pong, whiffle and tennis balls to represent people. Using the same pino pong balls to represent boats, put 500 in a bowl of steaming milk and you have international yacht racing from the spectators' point of view. When the commentator on the radio broadcast of the second race remarked that the triangular course could be seen from the shore drive around Newport, we determined to go for some pictures for the Presto. That second race was called because time ran out so we took a chance that the same course would be used on Wednesday after the British took Tuesday off to polish the Sceptre's bottom. We guessed right. They used the triangular course.

We left Mattapoisett last Wednesday with blue skies, freshening breeze and unlimited visibility and made excellent time on the first leg of the course to Newport. This was, no doubt, due more to the engine in the car than to the sailing breeze. We rounded the mark at the shore drive in Newport just in time for the start of the race. There was a heavy haze on the water but the car radio informed us that the race was underway. We parked, checked the camera and made ready for some beautiful shots. After straining our eyes for half an hour along with the rest of the crowd, we discovered that we were looking at the fog in the opposite direction of the actual course of the race. I wandered down to talk to a man who was looking through binoculars in the other direction, he passed me the glasses and through a rift in the fog some 7 miles away I actually saw the two racing yachts with spinnakers up and a Navy blimp hovering overhead. They were heading for a buoy which was clearly visible right off the beach, which, naturally, I took for the second mark of the course. We tacked the car around the point, parked and stared at the fog in that quarter for 2½ hours until the radio report said that both boats had rounded the mark. From this information, we gathered that we were looking at the wrong buoy. Two hours later we began to see sails on the horizon after the radio had announced the Columbia the winner of the day's race. Then we saw more sail and destroyers and Coast Guard ships. A man from Florida shared his binoculars with us as we tried to pick out the two contenders. The light was running out rapidly and as the destroyers appeared as dim silhouettes in the murk I packed the camera. We started the motor and began to pull out of the parking space when a shout went up from the spectators and there they were sailing into the approach to the harbor. I jumped out of the car and pointed to what I thought was the two boats and immediately became an authority as people ran up to ask which were the Columbia and Sceptre.

Frankly there are better sports for the spectator to watch. With powerful glasses and luck the race was visible for 5 seconds of the 5 hours. However, during that time I don't think I ever met a finer group of people to talk with, share binoculars with and gaze at the fog and some of the most beautiful coast on the Atlantic shore. Incidentally there was a good wind and the Columbia won by a greater margin than even and that was the story of the whole series.

The Columbia, the better boat with the better sails and the better seasoned crew.

The series was no contest because of the superiority of the American boat, but it is a wonderful thing to have the old rivalry started up again. It is one of the few major combats between two nations which does not require killing of men but clean and honest skill by the best in sports.

hive over his shoulders, lest he be pestered with bees. He put a mosquito net in his satchel, lest he be annoyed with mosquitoes. And in the end, he had such a load that he could not carry it.

This is a parable of life. We burden ourselves with so many elements of prevention that the load becomes impossible. We gather up so many difficulties that work becomes a disabling drudgery.

An English newspaper conducted a contest in an effort to get the right answer to the question: "Who are the happiest people on earth?" In due time it published the four prize-winning answers and here they are:

"A craftsman or artist whistling over a job well done."

"A little child building sand castles."

"A mother, after a busy day, bathing her baby."

"A doctor who has finished a difficult and dangerous operation and saved a human life."
